THE WORLD

President Johnson indicated that he believed Israel's leaders had violated his confidence by annexing all of Jerusalem but officials said the Israelis apparently acted before learning of the President's last-minute public plea for world wide consultation on the issue. Page One.

Jerusalem became a single municipality by order of Israeli interior minister Moshe Haim Shapiro, and Mayor Kollek said all barriers between the Old and the New cities would be removed at once. It was announced, too, that the Israeli pound would be the only legal tender in Jerusalem. Page One.

Yugoslavia submitted to the General Assembly a resolution demanding that Israel immediately withdraw her forces from the United Arab Republic, Jordan and Syria. The draft, co-sponsored by 14 other nonaligned countries, reflected grave concern over the Israeli parliament's passage of a law making Jerusalem a single city under Israeli administration. Eight Are Shot in Buffalo Riots

By MARVIN R. PIKE
BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — At least eight persons, including two policemen, were shot last night as gangs of rock-throwing Negroes stormed through Buffalo's East Side in a wave of violence that touched the City of Niagara Falls 25 miles northwest of here.

Rampaging Negro gangs roamed through the Buffalo's East Side, looting, smashing windows and overturning automobiles.

Police declined to say whether teen-agers and a woman who were shot were Negro or white persons. The wounded were hit by shotgun pellets. Looting of stores began after 11 p.m. last night.

Time after time, police fired tear gas to break up gatherings. The list of injured rose rapidly after darkness set in. Negro gangs, some numbering 200, streamed out of the mile-square area they rocked Tuesday night. They upset automobiles, smashed windows and threw gasoline bombs.

White store owners closed their shops hours earlier than usual. For a time, Negroes prevented some of them from leaving their stores.

White persons riding in automobiles were favorite targets of stone throwers. So were police, white newsmen on foot and anyone wearing a protective helmet.

One newsmen, Associated Press photographer, Charles Harry, suffered facial and hand cuts when jumped by 15 Negroes. He remained on duty, however.

It appeared early in the evening that the very young persons were causing most of the trouble, while curiosity brought out the others.

The outbreak came several hours after Police Commissioner Frank N. Felicetta said he would move with determination to suppress a repeat of Tuesday night's violence.

Felicetta rallied 400 policemen into a mile-square East Side area Tuesday night as persons in their teens to about 30 pelted officers with stones and beer cans, smashed windows, looted stores and set nine fires that caused total damage estimated at $50,000. The amount of the other damage was not figured.

Police said the incidents began soon after a stone, thrown at a bus, hit a woman passenger and knocked out two of her teeth. They said, however, they believed "the incident that touched off the spark" was a burning television set pulled by the vandals from an appliance store to which they had set fire.

It was not determined whether the stone-throwing was a racial conflict.

The rampaging left seven persons, including four policemen, injured but not seriously.

The outbreaks were the first major outbreaks of racial unrest in Upstate New York since the Rochester riots in 1964. In Niagara Falls, about 200 Negro youths gathered late Wednesday night and smashed several store windows in the northeast section of the famed honeymoon resort city.

Niagara Falls Police Chief John J. Collins, who rushed 50 helmeted policemen to the area, said the violence had ebbed by 1:15 a.m.

Three of the eight who suffered gunshot wounds in Buffalo were teen-agers.

Local Council Gets $60,000 Grant

Needs of Aged To be Studied

By TOM CURTIN
What seemed impossible was accomplished by Warren-Forrest Counties Economic Opportunity Council yesterday.

Word was received from Pennsylvania's Senator Joseph S. Clark that the council was one of 12 in the nation chosen for a pilot project, and would receive a $60,513 grant from the National Council on Aging.

Local council officials were glad to hear the news. "After almost two years of existence the office is getting its feet off the ground and justifying its existence," stated Mrs. John Fanaritis, chairman of the council. Mrs. Fanaritis went on to praise the long hours of knowledgeable work by council director Richard M. Brown, who made the application due in the national office of the Council on Aging in New York on June 1.

The new program will be known as Project FIND (Friendly, Isolated, Needy, Disabled) and will be conducted by senior citizens for senior citizens as a survey to determine what type of programs are needed to aid the aged in the areas of housing, health, nutrition, recreation, and transportation. The program will last for 9 months and employ 31 paid personnel, as well as a large number of volunteers.

Brown last evening announced the appointment of Donald Taft of East Hictory as director of Project FIND. Taft, a retired forester, is known by many throughout Warren and Forest Counties and was reportedly found to be highly suited for the director's job.

Advertisements for applicants for the additional 30 staff positions will soon be released. These positions will require a combination nurse-social worker, a secretary, 12 area captains, and 18 community aides. In nearly all cases those hired for the project will be 60 years old or older.

Brown emphasized the scale of the project and said, "The success of the project will be determined by the number of volunteers we are able to get assistance from."

The two counties will be divided into 12 target areas. Persons assigned to work in an area will be citizens of that area, thus keeping interviews on a familiar basis. These interviews will be patterned after a questionnaire which will also be used in the other 11 projects.

Project FIND, which will determine future government programs for the aged, is being conducted in both urban and rural areas. Warren and Forest counties were chosen as typical rural areas. They are said to contain all the elements needed to supply data for the fact-finding program.

Because the Warren-Forrest council is one of only 12 in the nation conducting these programs, a great deal of attention will be focused on this area by senators, representatives and federal agencies to determine the ultimate findings of FIND. In a sense, the future of government aid for senior citizens will be decided by those living in the Warren area.

Japanese Foresters Here to Learn

A group of 11 foresters from various parts of Japan enjoyed a cook-out at the home of Bernie Wingert, Warren County agent, last evening. The Japanese team is composed primarily of young men who work on family-owned land as managers and laborers. The team arrived in Washington, D. C., June 14, to spend approximately a month in observing small forestry operations and forestry extension work in this country. They are visiting extension foresters and other extension specialists.

Arabs and Jews Free to Mingle

Jerusalem Now a Single City

By JAMES FERON
(C) N. Y. Times News Service
JERUSALEM—Jerusalem became a single city yesterday as the Arab sector, formerly held by Jordan, and some adjacent districts were absorbed by Israel.

The enabling legislation had been approved Tuesday in swift parliamentary action and the required proclamation was issued today by Moshe Shapiro, the minister of the interior.

Mayor Teddy Kollek said last night that all barriers will come down today and Arabs and Jews will be free to mingle freely in greater Jerusalem and, in fact, throughout Israel.

"The Arabs will be able to go to Haifa or Tel Aviv or wherever they like," Kollek said. "All they have to show is their receipt for the census we held Monday in the Old City."

The New Jerusalem includes much more than the walled Old City and even more than the administrative boundaries set by the Jordanians for their sector of the formerly divided city.

Israeli leaders reached north to bring Kalandia Airport into Jerusalem. The gerrymandered border will thus absorb an airport that was being extended by the Jordanians to include international traffic.

Jerusalemites will soon be able to travel only nine miles north to reach their flights rather than four times the distance to Lydda, southeast of Tel Aviv. The first civilian flights out of Kalandia probably will be domestic.

Bethlehem, which lies only five miles south of Jerusalem, was not absorbed, however, into the Jerusalem municipal district. The border comes to within a mile of the town, the birthplace of Jesus. It had not been part of Jordanian Jerusalem.

The border runs east of the Mount of Olives in much the same way as the Jordanians had marked the city limits.

Several villages south and southeast of Jerusalem are being absorbed as are the more modern suburban areas adjacent to the main highway heading north to the airport. Also included in Jerusalem is Mount Scopus, for 19 years an Israeli enclave surrounded by Jordanian troops and today, ironically, the site of an emotional ceremony reopening the original campus of Hebrew University.

Among the recipients of honorary degrees at the ceremony was Major General Yitzhak Rabin, the Israeli chief of staff, whose forces captured the Old City June 7. With thousands looking on, including alumni from all over the world, Rabin was cited for his leadership of the defense forces and awarded an honorary Doctor of Philosophy degree.

Earlier, in a small but equally emotional ceremony, Interior Minister Shapiro told Kollek that from now on "Jerusalem shall be whole."

Kollek said last night that the new city would have a population of about 260,000. The exact figure will not be determined until it is known how many residents fled and how many came to Jerusalem from other areas before and after the fighting.

Kollek said that he believed there were about 60,000 persons living in the newly acquired area, 30,000 of whom lived within the Old City walls. He said there were 180,000 to 200,000 persons living in what was formerly the Israeli sector.

According to an unofficial estimate, the new borders will roughly double the size of the former Israeli sector. The religious balance also will change. There were no Jews in Jordanian Jerusalem and few Arabs in the Israeli sector. Many of the Arabs living in former Jordanian Jerusalem are Christians. It is expected that some members of the old Jordanian municipal council will be appointed to the council elected by the Israelis.

Arab boys were sent around the Old City today to paste up notices stating that Jordanian dinars could be exchanged for Israeli pounds. Few persons came forward but the six changing stations are expected to be thronged today and tomorrow when Jerusalemites read that they have become Israeli residents and that dinars will be worthless after the week-end.

Yesterday's annexation news brought little reaction from Jerusalemites, who had been expecting it for some time.

Many of the municipal services of the two sectors are operating as one, although access remains difficult in all but a few places. The imposing sniper walls and other obstacles are being torn down, but the line of rubble continues to divide the two areas.

US Refuses Recognition Of Unity

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States served notice yesterday that it does not recognize Israel's action in asserting administrative control over Old Jerusalem.

The notice was served in a stiffly worded statement from the State Department.

Earlier in the day, the White House made a public appeal to Israel to avoid any quick annexation of the Old City of Jerusalem, seized from Jordan in the Middle East war.

The department's statement said: "The hasty administrative action taken today cannot be regarded as determining the future of the holy places or the status of Jerusalem in relation to them."

"The United States has never recognized such unilateral action by any state in the area as

Israel Withdrawal Asked at UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—In a move to block annexation by Israel of the Old City of Jerusalem, 15 nonaligned countries proposed yesterday that the U.N. General Assembly demand withdrawal of Israeli troops from Arab territory.

But in adjacent New Jerusalem, Israeli authorities announced that starting at noon Thursday the formerly Jordanian-ruled Old Jerusalem would be united with New Jerusalem in a single city.

The nonaligned countries' resolution also was aimed at breaking the U.S.-Soviet deadlock over action by the 122-nation assembly in the Mideast crisis.

The sponsors are Yugoslavia, Afghanistan, Burundi, Ceylon, Congo (Brazzaville), Cyprus, Guinea, India, Indonesia, Malaysia, Mali, Pakistan, Somalia, Tanzania and Zambia.

The United States spread word that it opposed the resolution, and heated debate was in prospect. The resolution was regarded as sure to win support of the Arab and Soviet bloc countries.

Israel's foreign minister, Abba Eban, issued a statement at the United Nations asserting that his country's policy is preservation of the unity of Jerusalem. The statement took note of U.S. opposition to Israel's moves to rule the Old City.

LBJ-Jordan Session is 'Chilly'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson talked for two hours yesterday with King Hussein of Jordan, and the White House reported they achieved "no identity of views" but that the session was of value.

Jordan's monarch, one of the few pro-Western rulers in the Arab world, came to Washington reportedly to seek U.S. help for his country in serious economic straits following her disastrous defeat by Israeli forces in the recent conflict.

Presidential press secretary George Christian said Johnson and the king met at a working luncheon in the private dining room on the second floor of the White House with only seven Americans and four Jordanians around the table.

More Troops Are Sent To Aden

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
ADEN — The British Middle East Command announced yesterday that another battalion of 700 British troops was being brought here to help cope with a worsening security situation.

British authorities said the reinforcements would bring to nearly 6,000 the total of British land forces trying to maintain internal security in this terror-ridden colony. Another 6,000 men are stationed at Royal Air Force and navy bases here.

At same time, British officials announced that the evacuation of British military dependents would be speeded up to be completed by mid-July. Their withdrawal had been scheduled for completion by July 31 as part of the over-all British evacuation in preparation for granting Aden and the surrounding British protectorate of South Arabia independence next Jan. 9. The mounting terrorism and the availability of the planes bringing in new troops led the authorities to speed up the removal of the dependents.

Guerillas Kill Bolivian Troops

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — Communist guerrillas were reported yesterday to have killed three soldiers and wounded two in a new ambush in southeastern Bolivia, while other dispatches said thousands of workers were on strike in the country's tin mines, a seedbed of leftist agitation.

At least 20 persons have been reported killed and 82 injured in clashes between troops and rebellious miners in the Catavi-Huanuni district of central Bolivia since Saturday, when troops began occupying the mines to forestall what the government said was a subversive sabotage plot.

Secretary-General U Thant said he was studying the implications of the action by the Israeli Parliament in connection with the resolution adopted by the General Assembly in 1949 calling for internationalization of Jerusalem.

Agreement on a resolution by the nonaligned nations resulted from lengthy consultations aimed at enabling the assembly, now in the second week of its emergency session, to agree on a course of action.

Ambassador Danilo Lekic of Yugoslavia, chairman of the nonaligned group, predicted the resolution would win 80 votes, or more than the two-thirds majority required. Western sources disputed the claim.

Under the main provisions of the nonaligned resolution the assembly would:

—Call for immediate withdrawal of Israeli forces behind the lines set up in the 1949 armistice agreements. Under the agreements Israel held the New City and Jordan the Old City.

—Request that Thant seek compliance with the resolution with the help of the U.N. truce supervisory organization.

—Call upon all members of the United Nations to render assistance to Thant to see that the resolution is carried out.

—Request that Thant report both to the General Assembly and Security Council on Israeli compliance.

—Request the council after Israeli compliance to give consideration to questions pertaining to the general situation in the Middle East.

The statement was read by press officer Robert J. McCloskey. He summoned newsmen to read the U.S. policy declaration.

500 Viet Cong Trapped by Allies

SAIGON (AP)—A crack force of American armored cavalrymen and South Vietnamese rangers fanned out in the heavy jungles Thursday to pin down 500 guerrillas fighting for their lives beneath a rain of jet aircraft fire.

More than 2,000 American and South Vietnamese troops have been thrown into the fight about 45 miles east of Saigon.

Officers on the scene were confident they had a battalion of the hard-core 275th Regiment pinned into an area where escape would be difficult if not impossible.

The fight broke out two days ago and has been mushrooming in size.

American armored units sped into the fray late Wednesday, catching sprays of fire from Communist antitank rockets. Initial American casualties, however, were reported as only eight wounded.

In the air war, American jet bombers ranged north and south of Hanoi Wednesday in bombing forays that included the 12th raid on the sprawling power plant complex at Thai Nguyen.

Scattered skirmishes continued to mark the ground war in the south.

Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs concentrated on the electricity power plant in the six-square-mile Thai Nguyen complex, 38 miles north of the Communist capital. Pilots reported hits on the generator and boiler buildings and said the area was covered with dark smoke.

One mile farther north, other Thunderchiefs bombed the Thai Nguyen iron ore processing plant and pilots claimed heavy damage and destruction of three rail cars.

B52 bombers mounted four raids on enemy positions in South Vietnam last night and this morning. One hit at suspected storage areas, gun positions and bunkers nine miles north-northwest of Khe Sanh, near the border of Laos where a new North Vietnamese buildup has been reported.

More than 80 Navy jets from the carriers Constellation and Intrepid pounded a highway-rail transfer point, a railway siding and a fuel pumping station at Nam Dan, an industrial center 46 miles southeast of Hanoi, to impede the movement of Communist supplies.

Briefly Speaking

State police of the Tionesta barracks investigated a two-car accident which occurred at 6:45 last evening on Route 88 in the center of Marienville. The collision reportedly resulted when a coupe operated by Harold Dan Motter of Clarion pulled on to Route 68 from Spruce street into the path of a 1967 station wagon operated by Anne Prudick of St. Marys. No injuries were reported, but both autos were extensively damaged.

An illegally parked truck was partially blamed for a two-car accident at the corner of Locust st. and Pennsylvania ave. east yesterday at 3:50 p.m. Borough police reported a car driven by David W. Broker of 1923 Pennsylvania ave. E., was attempting to pull on to Pennsylvania avenue from Locust st. when his vision was obscured by an illegally parked truck on the curb east of Locust. As Broker reportedly eased his car on to the avenue to see, he allegedly struck the right front fender of a vehicle driven by James Milton Samuelson of 14 Wilson st. In the meantime, the owner of the truck left the scene before he or his vehicle could be identified. Damages totaled $260 and no injuries were reported.

Youngsville Youth Canteen elected new officers Tuesday night at St. Francis Parish House. The officers are Don Hendrickson, president; Sandy Lind, vice president; and Lynda Morley, secretary and treasurer.

VC Are Silent On 'Reprisal'

SAIGON (AP)—U.S. headquarters still awaiting definite word yesterday from the Communists as to whether Gustav C. Hertz, an American Agency for International Development officer kidnapped by the Viet Cong Feb. 2, 1965, is dead or alive.

Spokesman announced Tuesday they believed a rambling Viet Cong broadcast June 15 implied Hertz had been executed in reprisal for something. American authorities called on the Viet Cong's political arm, the National Liberation Front, for precise information on Hertz and for abandonment of "their inhumane and illegal actions of reprisals against prisoners they hold."

"The hits were good," said Cmdr. Ed Bauer, 37, Columbia, Mo., who led a flight of A6 Intruders. "The whole area billowed with smoke."

Without specifying locales, Hanoi's Vietnam News Agency declared in a broadcast dispatch that three planes were shot down by the North Vietnamese armed forces and the pilots were captured.

There was no comment from American authorities in Saigon. U.S. B52 Stratofortresses rained bombs on Communist infiltration routes to help check enemy buildups in two provinces of South Vietnam.

The eight-engine jets unloaded 90 tons of explosives on enemy trails in Quang Tri Province, adjoining the demilitarized zone, and 90 more tons in Kontum Province, in the central highlands.

U.S. Marines based at Khe Sanh, a western outpost in Quang Tri Province where enemy shells killed nine Americans Tuesday, maintained constant patrols to check on the alignment of infiltrated North Vietnamese regulars. The Marines said they killed 28 in clashes that cost them 10 dead and 27 wounded.

In jungles of Kontum Province, 250 miles north of Saigon, a task force of more than 300 paratroopers from the U.S. 173rd Airborne Brigade jumped a patrol of about 50 North Vietnamese. A spokesman said they killed six of the enemy and captured one in a sharp firefight. Two Americans were killed and eight wounded.

Three U.S. Air Force AC47 Dragon ships used their flares and Gatling-type guns, each of which can spew out 6,000 20mm shells a minute, to help beat off a Viet Cong attack in the night on a government outpost in the Mekong River delta 90 miles southwest of Saigon. Armed helicopters also contributed their firepower.

South Vietnamese spokesmen said the garrison of 20 militiamen suffered heavy casualties in the five-hour fight, but held. Losses among the enemy were undetermined.

Capt. Kenneth F. Warren, 25, Stewartville, Minn., navigator of one of the Dragon ships, said flares died out for a few minutes at one point and the Viet Cong took advantage of the darkness "to try an all-out effort to overrun the camp."

"Seconds later," he said, "we had flares all over the place and armed helicopters were pumping ammunition into the enemy attack positions."

By LAURA FOREMAN NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Attorney Dean Andrews Jr. said yesterday the Clay Bertrand who sought legal counsel for accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald was French Quarter bar operator Eugene C. Davis.

Andrews' statement came on the heels of Davis' appearance before the Orleans Parish grand jury.

Andrews said in an interview that Clay L. Shaw, accused by Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison of conspiring to murder President John F. Kennedy, "never was, and never will be" Clay Bertrand.

Andrews, under indictment for perjury in the Garrison investigation, said he would voluntarily go before the grand jury and tell them that Davis was Clay Bertrand.

But a grand jury subpoena was issued late in the day for Andrews.

These developments came as a parade of Garrison critics went before the grand jury, which kept private detective William Gurvich cooling his heels in the hall.

Warren Man Injured When Truck Drifts

A Warren man was reportedly injured yesterday afternoon when a truck he was unloading drifted backward, pinning him between the vehicle and a chicken coop at his home.

Paul Dellman, 57, of 521 Jackson st. ext., was taken to the emergency room of Warren General Hospital at 2:15 p.m. following the accident.

According to hospital officials, he was X-rayed for possible back injuries and then admitted to the hospital's new intensive care unit, where he is reported to be in satisfactory condition.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has called off exchanges with the Soviet Union over damage done by the Soviet cargo ship Turkistan by U.S. aircraft while the vessel was tied up at the coal port of Cam Pha, North Vietnam, June 2.

State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said there was an oral exchange Monday between Soviet Minister Counselor Yuri N. Tcherniakov and U.S. Asst. Secretary of State John Leddy.

Gurvich resigned Monday as Garrison's chief investigator, saying the district attorney had no case and Shaw, 54, a prominent retired New Orleans businessman, should never have been arrested.

The National Broadcasting Co., in a television documentary last week of Garrison's investigation, said it had discovered that the man known as Clay Bertrand was not Shaw. NBC said it turned its information over to the Justice Department.

Andrews, under suspension as an assistant district attorney in suburban Jefferson Parish, was asked why he had never identified Davis as Bertrand in the past.

"Nobody ever asked me," said Andrews.

Davis, 42, is the owner and operator of Wanda's Bar at 704 Berville in the French Quarter.

The regularly scheduled meeting of the Chautauque Lake-Chadokol River Watershed Committee will be held at 8:15 p.m. tonight at the town of North Harmony community building in Stow. All area residents who are interested in the watershed program are urged to attend.

The next several phases of planning the watershed program will be discussed, as will the recent watershed congress in Boston.

SHAHER WANTS SUPPORT

Launches Tax Campaign

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Shafer said yesterday he is launching a people-to-people campaign to secure support for his budget and proposed $267 million tax program.

"My administration is contacting interested organizations across the state, asking for formation of a citizen's lobby," he said at a news conference.

In reply to a question, Shafer said he had no plans to "harm" the state as he did when seeking support for the constitutional convention.

The governor said the campaign would be conducted between now and when the legislature returns July 10 following the fourth of July recess.

"Pennsylvania is in a fiscal crisis," Shafer said. He added that state services might be jeopardized if the "lean" budget is cut any further.

Shafer, a Republican, is proposing a $1,791 billion budget for the fiscal year which starts Saturday. He is asking for $267 in new taxes to balance this budget.

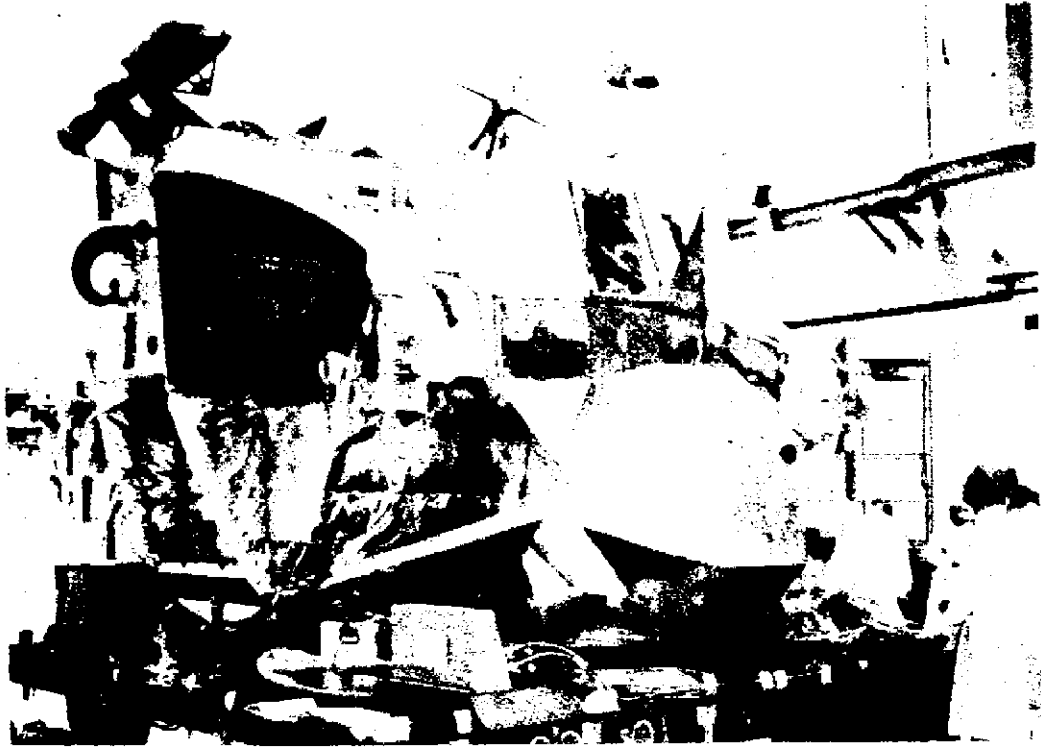

Democrats, who are in the minority in both the House and Senate, say the budget is too high and, hence the tax demand is excessive. Several Republicans also say the figures are too high.

Shafer's tax program has run into trouble in the House Republican caucus. Consequently, House Republicans and Democrats are conferring in an effort to resolve the budget and tax dispute.

The governor stuck by his $267 million figure at the news conference.

"Any further cuts in the budget means further cuts in services," he said.

"We are going to the people during the legislative recess," Shafer said.

Castro Worries Big Two

BY JUAN DE ONIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — Secretary of State Dean Rusk was reported yesterday by Latin American diplomats to have expressed U.S. support for a meeting of American foreign ministers to discuss Cuban-backed revolutionary movements in the hemisphere.

Authorities sources also said that President Johnson had discussed Cuba with Premier Aleksei Kosygin during their second meeting at Glassboro, N.Y., Sunday.

Kosygin was reported to have told Johnson of his intention to visit Cuba on his way home. The Soviet premier arrived in Havana Monday.

These reports underscored the evidences of concern in the Washington and Moscow over Premier Fidel Castro's militant support for revolutionary guerrilla movements in Latin America.

The Havana radio's terse comment on the talks yesterday said Kosygin met in morning and afternoon with the Cuban Communist Party's politburo, which includes Castro and his brother Raul, who is minister of the armed forces. It was said to have been a "frank, comradely" exchange.

Kosygin who will fly from Havana Friday to meet with President de Gaulle in Paris, Saturday, was reported to be resting and sightseeing yesterday.

IN USS LIBERTY CASE

Navy Gives No Verdict

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Navy court of inquiry into the Israeli attack on the USS Liberty did not have sufficient information to make a judgment on the reasons for the attack, the Pentagon said yesterday.

The court avoided chastising Israel for the strafing and torpedo assault June 8 that left 34 Americans dead, Israel has said the attack was carried out by mistake, an explanation challenged by some members of the Liberty's crew.

The Pentagon said "it was not the responsibility of the court to rule on the culpability of the attackers and no evidence was heard from the attacking nation."

The court ruled that Israel had "ample time" to identify the American communications ship before the attack off the Sinai coast.

But since this was not an international investigation, the Pentagon said, no evidence was presented on whether any of the aircraft which overflew the Liberty had identified her or, if they had, whether the information was relayed to higher authorities.

Ironically, it was disclosed officially, the Joint Chiefs of Staff had ordered the U.S. vessel to move farther from the Sinai coast hours before she was hit. But "the messages were misrouted, delayed and not received until after the attack."

The disclosure came in a Pentagon summary of a Navy court of inquiry convened two days after the attack to investigate the circumstances of the assault.

Thirty-four U.S. seamen aboard the Liberty were killed and about 75 others wounded in the incident, Israel said the attack was carried out by mistake, but some members of the Liberty's crew challenged that explanation.

The Pentagon's version of the court of inquiry findings made no mention of the Liberty's mission. The government's position has been that she was near

Wormy Water is Protested by Pittsburghers

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Seven women from the Hill District marched into City Hall yesterday with bottles of drinking water containing red, white and green worms up to three-quarters of an inch long. They said the "wriggly, wormy things" have been in their water since Saturday.

City officials took one look and immediately sent water trucks to their neighborhood instructions to remain until the "impurities" were cleared up.

Deputy Director John W. Bilotta said the worms were caused by insects breeding on the insides of the Herron Hill and Bedford reservoirs.

He said special chemicals were added to the reservoirs to eliminate the problem.

Despite the worms, Bilotta said "the water is completely safe to drink and use."

The residents said they would rather use the water trucks.

Governor Gets Stop-Gap Bills

By JOHN L. TAYLOR

HARRISBURG (AP) — The House sent Gov. Shafer $244.2 million in stop-gap appropriations yesterday to keep the wheels of government turning while Republicans and Democrats sought to resolve their differences over the administration's proposed $1,791 billion budget.

The stop-gaps would enable the various agencies of the state to function for a maximum period of two months into the new fiscal year, which begins on Saturday. In addition, public assistance recipients would be assured of their regular payments.

Meanwhile, House leaders and fiscal experts on both sides of the aisle sat down to explore areas of disagreement concerning the budget and Shafer's proposed $267 million tax program, which would help finance it.

A preliminary session was held, but no concrete negotiations were expected until the end of the current fiscal year because of basic differences on the amount of unexpended funds available for next year.

House Democrats, who have blocked action on the governor's tax proposals, continued to insist that the administration needs no more than $47 million in new revenue. They also repeated their call for budget cuts.

"When the governor says that the minority leader stands alone or if he has any adherents on the Democratic side that they

Fire Broke Out Before Jet Crash

ELCSBURG, Pa. (AP) — A spokesman for the National Transportation Safety Board said yesterday that a fire broke out somewhere in the tail section of a Mohawk Airlines jet shortly before it crashed on Friday, killing all 34 persons aboard.

In addition, he said, several witnesses reported seeing smoke coming from the plane before it crashed into a heavily wooded mountain near this

Oil Crisis Looms

(c) N.Y. Times News Service

WASHINGTON — The Interior Department warned yesterday that Western Europe was facing "an immediate petroleum shortage of critical proportions" as a result of the Middle East war and the closing of the Suez Canal.

Oil deliveries to Europe are less than 30 per cent of normal, the department said, and "if the crisis persists, Europe will be faced with a serious draw on its emergency stocks or a considerable reduction of petroleum consumption."

The department's warning was contained in a letter from J. Cordell Moore, assistant secretary of interior, to Farris Bryant, director of the Office of Emergency Planning. He urged adoption of an emergency plan of action to overcome shortages of oil supplies because of the Middle East crisis.

Basically the plan calls for cooperative action among oil companies both in production and in movement of tankers, to assure an adequate flow of oil to Western Europe.

The five-page letter was described by Interior Department

BROAD PROGRAM PASSED

Approve Teacher Corps

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed and sent to President Johnson yesterday a $910 million education bill setting up a broad new program of teacher training and extending the Teacher Corps for three years.

Republicans complained strongly that the bill had been given inadequate consideration, particularly the new training provisions for all types of educational personnel.

But Sen. Wayne Morse, D. Ore., floor manager for the measure, insisted that because of the congressional recess beginning today it was necessary to accept the House version of the legislation without change. The House passed the measure Tuesday.

If Senate amendments were adopted, Morse said, the measure almost certainly would die in conference. So the Senate passed it by voice vote.

House sponsors of the bill said it would turn the Teacher Corps over to local control.

However, it appears to leave the U.S. Office of Education firmly in control of the program since that agency will decide which projects are funded and what guidelines they must meet. Washington pays up to 90 per cent of the cost of the corps teams.

Under the law now, the local school district has a big say in the program since no Teacher Corps team is assigned to it unless it requests one. It also has a veto over corps personnel.

Under the bill, the districts will be given authority for recruitment of personnel but these are to be trained in universities as they are now.

In addition, the bill gives state education departments the right to approve all corps projects.

The Teacher Corps is designed to enlist experienced teachers and recent college graduates to form teams to aid disadvantaged children in city ghettos and poverty-stricken rural areas.

The bill authorized $135 million for the corps over the next three years.

A much larger part of the measures is the $775-million authorization for the new training program for all types of education personnel effective starting July 1 next year.

This would give the Office of Education much larger powers in the training field than it ever has had before.

Morse said this expanded authority is needed because of shortages of qualified personnel which have plagued education for years.

Higher Public Need

Higher public need, a bureaucratic phrase if there ever was one, is the one of contention that is presently giving lobbyists in the nation's capitol something to chew on during hearings on H. R. 740, H. R. 4884 and other identical bills "to establish certain policies with respect to certain use permits for national forest lands." And during the hearings a lot of basic and fundamental decisions that could bring what is primarily a California fiasco to plague the managers of our local federal lands are being made.

What has happened, it seems, is that in areas like Lake Tahoe, where the useless lands of 40 years ago were leased for the establishment of summer homes and recreation-based business enterprises, the mushrooming recreational demand of today has caused forest officials to reconsider and adopt what is currently being termed the "higher public need" policy. As a result, leases that have been in effect for years are being terminated as they reach their expiration date.

The homes are valuable and the businesses are profitable. To protect their constituents, California congressmen have flooded the congressional mill with bills that would force the Forest Service to continue the leases indefinitely, or reimburse the permittees for the investment they have made on these public lands at a cost of well over 1-billion dollars.

On the surface this would seem to be a California problem, or at least be limited to those western states where federal lands make up one-third of the total land surface. But is it?

Not if we consider one of the major demands being made by the National Forest Recreation Association, an organization that represents the mountain outdoor recreation industry and the organized homeowners occupying federal lands under lease or permit. Their "No. 1" demand is that the Forest Service recognize the "residential" use of federal lands as a desirable class of use. And further, that such use be made a part of the "multiple use" policy through a declaration by Congress that would apply the ruling to ALL national forests.

Greater private use of public lands at a time when "higher public need" is evident on all types of publically-owned lands hardly seems to be a reasonable solution. And officials of the Allegheny National Forest are to be commended for having held the number of "special use" permits to a minimum on our local federal lands. At least our "permit" problems aren't as pressing as where residential use of public lands once reached sub-division proportions.

The private use of public lands for the establishment of oriented businesses and facilities that will serve the public, however, is a different matter. Such "special uses" are definitely needed on ANF lands right now, and will be more needed in the future. For if any precept of the multiple use policy has ever received Congressional consideration and approval it is the precept that the public has a right to the fullest enjoyment of these lands, and oriented businesses and services contribute to this end.

But residential use as a Forest Service policy — No!

SYLVIA PORTER Checks Anonymous Group

Among my most fascinating correspondents during the past two years has been a prisoner at the Nebraska Penal and Correctional Complex in Lincoln. "F.C.," lets call him, is president of Checks Anonymous, a group of convicted bad check passers. All of the members are now serving, or have recently served, jail terms of varying lengths and some have spent the majority of their adult lives behind bars.

Checks Anonymous is similar in important respects to the nationally respected Alcoholics Anonymous. The key goal of the Nebraska bad check writers, like AA, is to rehabilitate individual habitual criminals.

Since CA was launched in 1963, with the help of progressive-minded prison officials and legal advisors, a total of 895 criminals have joined. (A full one-third of the inmates of this institution are bad check passers.) At regular meetings members entertain guest speakers, including law professors, probation officers, and businessmen. They pay regular dues, from earnings on prison jobs, which are used to repay victims of their crimes. They carry on a continuous flow of correspondence with offenders throughout the U.S. who have not yet been convicted, frequently talking them out of careers in bad check passing, and with members who have been released from prison.

Job training for honest jobs when offenders complete their terms is a critically important part of the program. CA also offers a special job counseling and testing service which helps departing members to find honest jobs. County attorneys and sheriffs throughout the U.S. have been enlisted by CA to help and are now helping in this job-finding process.

The need for this imaginative group is tremendous. Bad check losses in the U.S. are now estimated at above $1 billion a year. As another measure of this crime's impact, it's estimated that retailers in this country must sell at least an extra $10 billion a year in merchandise to cover these losses.

Checks Anonymous puts the scope of losses to retailers in addition to the daily direct losses — this way: "Add the cost of detection and arrest, trial and conviction, months or years of imprisonment. Include the cost of welfare to provide for dependents of those convicted. Then determine the personal incomes no longer contributing to the economy. Place a value on the divorces and broken homes which follow. Measure the cost of lost honor and reputation. Total them all and you have some idea what bad checks cost you and your community."

In addition to its services for prisoners and would-be prisoners, CA is urging comprehensive research studies of the motivations of compulsive bad-check writers, encouraging other U.S. prisons to launch similar programs — and producing volumes of educational literature for businessmen. Included in this literature are tips on the modus operandi of the professional "check artist."

Just because a customer produces traditionally acceptable forms of identification accompanying a check he wishes to cash, don't take for granted that he's honest. The professional bad check passer is unlikely to travel without stacks of "identification."

Even in the short period of its existence, the Checks Anonymous campaign has shown impressive tangible results. A total of $4,854.72 has been returned to victims by CA members, who, incidentally, earn only 50 cents a day at prison jobs. The prison return rate of CA members has been slashed to 8 per cent, vs. 50-70 per cent in prisons without CA organizations. A total of 208 years of prison time and cost has been spared by shortened terms of CA members.

Out of his own criminal career, "F.C." is creating a guard against himself and all who would be fellow-losers. Checks Anonymous deserves a salute and prison support the nation over.

STAY AWAY FROM HIM, THELMA... HE'S POISON!

"...J'accuse..."

PEARSON & ANDERSON Rivers Killed Draft Reforms

WASHINGTON—The incredible inside story can now be told how one man not only blocked draft reforms but left the law more discriminatory than it had been.

He is South Carolina's Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, the powerful House Armed Services Chairman, who substituted his own prejudices for the painstaking recommendations of a Presidential commission.

Under the law he rammed through Congress, the poor who can't afford college will fight in Vietnam while the more affluent remain safe in school. Here is how the draft will work under the Rivers legislation:

1. Short of all-out war, undergraduates will be deferred. Those who can't raise the money for full-time schooling, who enroll in work-study programs or take on-the-job training, will be eligible for the draft. With more young men available than the armed forces need, the poor and unlucky will have to do the fighting.

2. The interpretation and implementation of the draft law will be left to the whim of the local boards, which will be given no uniform national guidelines. All-white boards will continue to draft Negroes in the South and Mexican-Americans in the Southwest.

3. Conscientious objectors can no longer claim deferment unless they belong to an established religious group. This overrules a 1965 Supreme Court Decision and likely will result in a proliferation of court cases.

4. The Justice Department and the courts will be required to give first priority to draft dodgers ahead of all other criminal cases.

5. Doctors no longer will be excused from the draft to serve in the Peace Corps, Anti-Poverty Program, Food and Drug Administration or Agriculture Department. Peace Corps Director Jack Vaughn has warned this will "deal the whole Peace Corps program a fundamental blow."

6. Young men can no longer appeal their draft classifications until they have accepted or rejected induction. This means they must go into the service or violate the law before the courts can give them a hearing.

Rivers' response to the national clamor for draft reforms, in other words, has been to increase the inequities. This is bound to cause bitterness, particularly among the Negroes who cannot afford higher education and must submit to the will of white boards.

As more and more Negro youths wind up fighting in Vietnam while their white contemporaries are excused for college, new racial explosions are inevitable. This will make splendid propaganda for the communists, who may end up as the chief beneficiaries from Rivers' folly.

L. Mendel Rivers, whose long flowing white hair and dedicated dignity give him a look of fading southern gentility, is a character straight out of a William Faulkner novel. His courtly, mint-julep charm has made friends among the well-bred old men, most of them Southerners, who run Congress. He has one failing that his friends in Congress try to pretend doesn't exist: he cannot hold his liquor.

Rivers regarded the President's draft recommendations the product of more than a year of exhausting study, with disdain from the first. The issue, he privately told his colleagues, was whether Congress should have power over the Pentagon.

Since he has largely become the embodiment of this power, as Armed Services Chairman, the real struggle was between the President and Rivers.

The Senate went along with most of the President's recommendations, but Rivers imposed his own views upon the House. In the Senate-House conference, Senate Armed Services Chairman Richard Russell, D-Ga., was outtalked and outmaneuvered by Rivers.

The ailing Russell, eager to get a draft bill through Congress before the old law expired on June 30, gave way to Rivers. One of the conferees, shaking his head, remarked privately: "I don't think he understands what he has done."

Russell has such prestige in the Senate that it almost automatically adopts his conference reports. But Sen. Ted Kennedy, D-Mass., put up a fight. He phoned the members of the Presidential commission, including ex-assistant Attorney General Burke Marshall, ex-CIA Director John McCone, ex-Defense Secretary Thomas Gates and ex-Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Oveta Culp Hobby. They helped him prepare an overnight attack on the bill.

Kennedy also phoned the White House and talked to aide Joe Califano. But the President was embroiled in the Middle East crisis. Except for moral encouragement, Kennedy got little help out of the White House.

Kennedy took the Senate floor, flanked by aides David Burke and Don Gifford. Brother Bob Kennedy, D-N.Y., scribbled suggestions and slipped them to Ted during the debate. But the Senate, also feeling the press of the June 30 deadline, accepted Russell's recommendation and adopted the Rivers Bill.

Note: After the vote, Russell shuffled off the Senate floor, spotted Kennedy outside the chamber, and walked over to shake hands. Kennedy introduced him to Burke and Gifford.

"I know you two," grinned the old Georgian. "You're the ones who gave me all the trouble. You know what I'm going to do? I'm going to put you boys in the draft pool with the 19-year-olds."

RUSSELL BAKER Taxi-Fatigue Epidemic

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
NEW YORK—Mayor John V. Lindsay has been warned by health authorities that New York faces an epidemic of Taxi fatigue. The city's rescue services are already picking some 8,000 victims a day from curbs in Manhattan alone, and these include only those sufferers who have lapsed into unconsciousness or shattered spirit.

No one knows how many of the thousands seen every day in the streets mumbering to themselves, staggering from corner to corner or gazing blankly at smog are in the tertiary phase of taxi fatigue. Until he collapses and receives hospital diagnosis, the taxi-fatigue sufferer looks little different from the man suffering from dementia or alcohol.

A typical victim of the malaise is Royster Dunway of Mansfield, Ohio, who was found unconscious on the curb three days ago. Dunway had arrived at Pennsylvania Station shortly after 3 o'clock on a hot afternoon, carrying two heavy suitcases.

Unable to get a taxi at the station, he started walking along Seventh avenue, innocently thinking he could hail a cab in traffic. Seventy-two hours later, an ambulance crew found him draped across his one remaining suitcase—he cannot recall where he abandoned the other—at a curb several miles to the north and east in a ten-ton district called Yorkville.

Of events after the first few hours of trying to find an empty cab, Dunway's memory is confused. He recalls being in Times Square at about 8:30 on the first evening of his ordeal, and he remembers, a few hours later, getting quite close to a cab that pulled to the curb to discharge passengers.

The ensuing melee must have been fierce, for he vividly recalls being brutally beaten by an old lady with an umbrella just as he reached the door handle. He can still recall the gloating expression on his assailant's face as she triumphantly departed in the cab.

The next 24 hours preceding unconsciousness are cloudy. Dunway remembers thinking that he ought to eat to sustain his strength and then, illogically, telling himself that in fun city a man had a right to be taken to a restaurant in a taxicab. Thus, his fury at not being able to get a cab became so intense that he forgot about being hungry. Fortunately, Dunway has responded well in the hospital to intravenous feeding. Unlike many victims, he appears to have sustained no permanent mental damage. He is now ready to return to Ohio, but before the hospital releases him, it wants to restore him to full strength for the ordeal of getting a taxi back to the railroad station.

Nearly 50 per cent of the hospital's taxi-fatigue cures are back within four days of their release. A distressing number never get away from the curb at the front door.

The mayor's office has not been apathetic to the threat of a taxi-fatigue epidemic. Indeed, the mayor himself is so concerned that he has refused to ignore the problem by appointing a committee to study it. The mayor himself is studying it, and in an interview recently he offered several useful suggestions for preventing it.

"People planning a vacation in fun city," he noted, "must realize that taxis are no easier to get than orchestra seats to 'Cabaret.' We urge visitors to write ahead several months in advance for taxi reservations so that they won't be disappointed. They should give two or three alternate dates and times when they will be available for cab

Why Kosygin Came

WASHINGTON—There was so much talk last week about Premier Alexei Kosygin's summit talk with President Lyndon Johnson that the real reason for Premier Kosygin's trip to the United States was obscured. Despite what he said at his press conference, I can now reveal that the main purpose of the Soviet premier's U.S. visit was to meet with Svetlana Stalin and see if he could tie up the Iron Curtain rights to the book she wrote about her father.

For months now the Soviet Union publishers, Harpinski and Rowitch, have been trying to see Svetlana, but to no avail. Then, by a stroke of luck, the Middle East war took place, and when it was over the Arabs, backed by the Soviets, were in very sad straits.

The Soviet publishers went to see Premier Kosygin and told him the mediation of the Arab-Israeli dispute in the United Nations would give him a perfect excuse to go to New York and make contact with Svetlana. They pointed out that with the publicity the book had received, the Iron Curtain rights were worth $2 billion, exactly the same amount of money the Soviets had lost in arming the Arabs in their war with the Israelis.

Premier Kosygin was at first reluctant to go. "If I go to the United States I'll probably have to speak in the United Nations and condemn Israel as an aggressor and defend the Arabs, which isn't very easy; and still I can't be sure Svetlana will see me or not."

The Soviet publishers argued, "Comrade Kosygin, this isn't an ordinary book. There's a lot of interest in Stalin right now, and this could be the biggest thing since 'War and Peace.' We've already had bids from Pravda, Izvestia and Red Star. The Proletariat Book of the Month Club is offering $500 million rubles, and the Soviet Digest wants to print excerpts from it for its October Revolution issue. I can't tell you how many advance orders we've had from the union-discount houses."

"I know it sounds good on paper," Kosygin said, "but how do we know that Svetlana hasn't said embarrassing things in the book about the present regime?"

"In the contract we'll say that the book can't be published without the approval of you, Brezhnev and Podgorny."

"Of course. Why didn't I think of that? We'll insist on changing anything in the manuscript that we don't approve of."

"Exactly. And if she still tries to publish without the changes, we'll take her to court."

"All right. If you think we can recoup our $2 billion, it may be worth a try. But nobody is to know. We will announce that my sole reason for going to New York is to bring about peace in the Middle East and condemn the aggressors who launched their cowardly attack on the U.A.R., Jordan and Syria."

"Why not? It's as good a cover story as any."

"Do you think Svetlana will agree to see me?"

"You don't have to see her. Contact her lawyers and spell out the deal. Have you ever heard of a defector who wouldn't want to have a best seller in her own country?"

"I suppose not. Maybe she might even come back to the Soviet Union and plug the book when it's published."

"You could suggest it to her. Okay, then. It's settled. We'll announce you're going to the United Nations tomorrow. If you don't get the book rights, you'll still make the Arabs happy."

It is not known whether Kosygin saw Svetlana while he was in the United States, but it is believed that the premier was unsuccessful in his efforts to get the book. Nobody in the Soviet Union bothered to tell Kosygin that Svetlana's lawyers were named Greenbaum and Katz.

service, to guard against the possibility that their first choice will be sold out."

The mayor also pointed out that there are almost always cabs freely available on the streets between the hours of 3 a.m. and 7 a.m. "Visitors should try to plan their fun for these hours," Lindsay urged. "Arrange to make cocktails at 3:30 in the morning. Try to find a restaurant open for dinner at 5 a.m. Pick plays with 4 a.m. curtains."

The mayor also suggests that visitors make more use of the extensive bus and subway system. It is surprisingly easy

MASON DENISON

Absence of Influence

HARRISBURG — One of the more striking aspects of the current 1967 legislative session — now wheezing through a fitful increase-the-tax-burden hassle — has been an almost complete absence of attempted legislative influence on the part of administrative departments, boards and commissions of Capitol Hill.

For the most part during the current session, department heads have been kept pretty well holed up in their own departmental sanctuaries rather than in legislative halls and corridors trying to influence passage of legislation in which their particular department may be interested.

This in itself is in decided contrast to the practice condoned during some of the past sessions of Pennsylvania's Legislature.

During the 1955 and 1957 sessions, for example, "legislative engineers" from the various and sundry departments on Capitol Hill could be found in legislative circles on nearly every legislative day, banging away spiritedly in behalf of (pet) departmental legislation.

It was somewhat of a novelty and innovation — a novelty and innovation in that such activities never before had been conducted on such a grandiose scale. Lawmakers were literally "snowed under".

Previously, any such activity on the part of administration department aides and chiefs had been, helter-skelter, genteel, somewhat casual, or perhaps hopefully inquiring, more than anything else.

It represented indeed the constitutional chasm between the executive and legislative branches.

When Governor Leader moved into office in 1955 — the then first Democratic chief executive in 18 years — a change on this score became noticeable immediately.

In the 1955-56 legislative session, the House of Representatives was Democratic administration-controlled (just as it is now Republican-administration-controlled) and the Senate then was in (anti-administration) GOP hands. The 1957 session — the second and last of the Leader Administration — was completely dominated by Republicans.

These two sessions under Mr. Leader, unquestionably due to the Legislature's political complexity, saw the dawn of hard-hitting administration "lobbying" on the part of administration department heads.

Lawmakers were buttonholed in legislative halls and corridors. Bitter public denunciations of legislators who opposed pet projects of administration department heads showered over Capitol Hill and became routine.

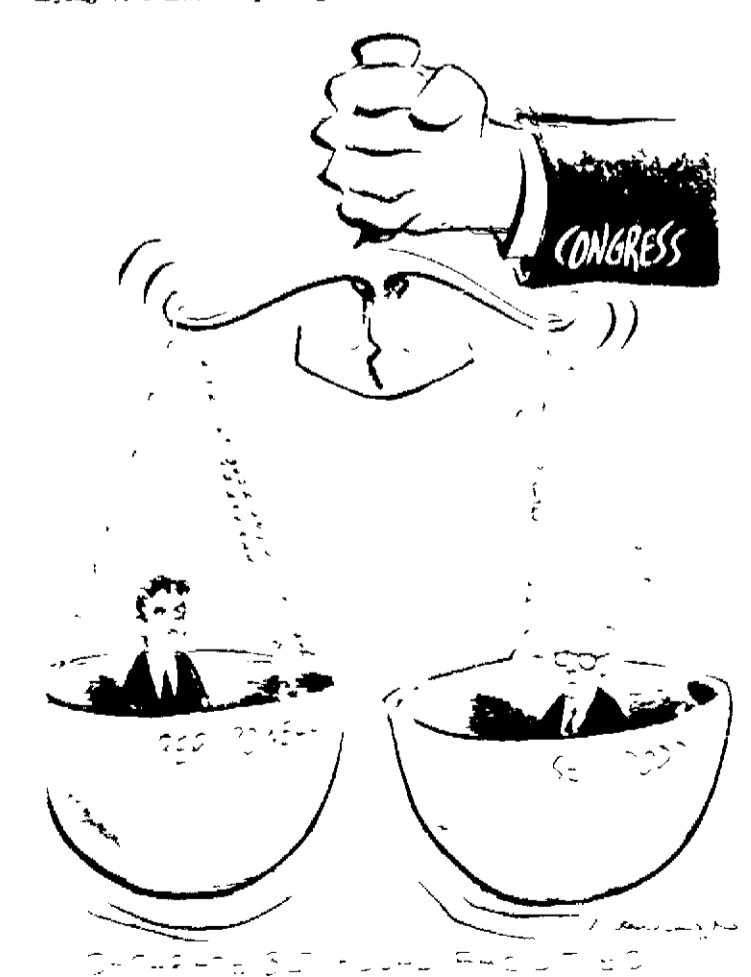

In effect — the executive branch seemed bitterly intent on clobbering the legislative branch, not as a general overall administration move but tied up in individual department head slugfests.

The contrast: In January of 1959 another Democratic Governor moved into office and a new legislative session got underway, again with a political split legislative branch.

Mr. Lawrence laid down the law early — and effectively. The front office would serve as the sole fountainhead. The order held.

The story was pretty much the same during the past Republican Scranton Administration, with administration department heads and sub-bureaucrats keeping pretty well out of the legislative picture unless specifically asked.

As for the incumbent (Republican) Shafer Administration, so far the pattern has followed rather closely that of its predecessor. The "so far" clause is important however inasmuch as Governor Shafer and his colleagues have only been in office six months, plus other than the tax increase program and the constitutional convention bill of earlier in the session there hasn't been much of major note for a full-blooded test of policy on this score!

Insurance Bill For Retarded

HARRISBURG (AP) — Rep. Eugene M. Fulmer, R-Centre, introduced yesterday a new package of two bills that would revise Pennsylvania's 1925 adoption statute.

The new bills were substitutes for measures offered earlier in the session by Fulmer, chairman of the Public Health and Welfare Committee.

Fulmer said most of the changes were technical, although the revised legislation would add child abuse as grounds for termination of parental rights.

A new clause would provide that courts could take away a parent's right to a child if "the parent has seriously physically abused the child and the court finds such abuse is likely to recur."

Under present law, a physically abused child may be taken from the home where he has suffered the abuse and placed in a foster home or institution. However, the child may not be placed for adoption unless the parents voluntarily give consent.

Unchanged in the new proposals was the separation of the concept of terminating parental rights from the legal process of adoption.

former chief of state of South Vietnam, said last night that Saigon had sent three generals here in the last two days to seek "a deal" that would keep him out of Vietnam politics until after the Sept. 3 presidential election. Popularly known as "Big Minh," the 52-year-old general who overthrew the late Ngo Dinh Diem in 1963 announced his candidacy Monday. Tuesday he obtained the legalization of his signature by the South Vietnamese Embassy—one of the formalities required of all candidates this September election. The candidates must file their signatures with the Constitutional Assembly by midnight June 30.

from Saigon that General Thieu, South Vietnamese chief of state, had announced that General Minh would not be allowed to return in time for election.

"Why can the Americans, the New Zealanders, the Koreans, the Australians go to Vietnam to fight the Communists while I, a Vietnamese, am not allowed to go to help save my own country?" he asked.

He said he had sent his com-

Nguyen Loc, director of South Vietnam's National Police and associate of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, who has been Saigon's minister of defense since the Autobody now stands 7-3.

Consumer Heated

A & B Heating overpowered Community Consumer last night in Bantam action 17-7. The win was shared by pitchers Norm Miosi, Jim Decker, Larry Gilford and Dave Papalia. Chris Lopez, Scott Zaffino and Lyle shared the loss for Consumer. Round trippers were bagged by Don Olson, Jim Decker, Dave Papalia, and Dave Gross. The only other hits were doubles two by Dave Papalia and one apiece from Norm Miosi and Jim Decker. For Consumer, Zaffino and Donaldson clubbed doubles. A & B now has a record of 10-1.

Bankers Cop 11-6

Warren National Bank of Sheffield hung an 11-6 defeat on Schoonover and Sugar Grove Farm Supply on the winners' home field last night. The Bankers are 4-2 in Cadet action. Tom Fitzgerald hurled the win and got help from Les Haummeser and Brent Jones, who doubles and Jeff Mull's triple. A double by Loomis sparked the losers' attack, with R. Dietrick taking the mound defeat.

Lander, Irvine Post Wins in Girls Softball

The Lander Lassies and Irvine Indians posted triumphs in the Eisenhower Girls Softball League last evening. The Lassies blasted Chanders Valley, 21-12 and the Indians hung a 26-11 defeat on the Akeley Angels.

Carb Hitchcock hurled the victory for Lander (2-1) as Mary Schumann, Diane Ludwig, Sally Weber and Marita Wilcox all slugged doubles. Losing pitcher Doris Young led the Chanders' attack with a three-bagger, with Debbie Hoffman and Diane Abbey rippling doubles.

Memorial Takes Two from Beaty

The Memorial Mets took a twinbill from Beaty in boro playground softball action yesterday by scores of 9-3 and 14-2.

Gary Dalrymple slammed a home run for the winners in the opener and Corky Reynolds rapped a two-bagger. Dan Swanson notched the mound victory. Larry Nelson and Randy Brown doubled for Beaty, with Tom Vought taking the loss.

Reynolds sparked the Mets in the second game romp with a homer and double. Jay Goodwill ripped a triple and both Swanson and Feldman collected two-baggers. Mike Menard hurled the victory.

Extra-base hits for Beaty in the game were a triple by Peterson, and a double by Tom Bartholomew. Larry Wilson picked up the defeat.

Coast Clashes

ANAHEIM (AP) — Bob Rodgers whacked a two-out, two-run double in the eighth inning, climaxing a three-run California rally that lifted the Angels to a 4-2 victory over Washington last night.

DODGER DRIVES

Cincinnati catcher Jim Coker blocks the plate with his left foot, but Willie Davis of Los Angeles slides through before Coker, with ball in glove, can slap the tag on him. Davis scored on Ron Fairly's sacrifice fly to right after tripling Wes Parker home as the Dodgers won 3-0 Tuesday night.

Broken Finger Set, Kaline Rues Temper

DETROIT (AP) — "I'm not proud of that," Al Kaline quietly reflected yesterday as he surveyed his splinted and swollen right hand, the result of a rare flash of temper the night before.

Kaline slammed his bat into the rack, forgetting to remove his hand, after being struck out in the sixth inning of the 8-1 beating the Tigers took from the Cleveland Indians.

The temper flare resulted in Kaline being placed on the disabled list. "It's not going to be as bad as that broken shoulder, is it?" the hard-hitting outfielder grimaced as team physician, Dr. Russell Wright, removed a temporary aluminum splint in Detroit Osteopathic Hospital.

"You remember—when I passed out," he added. Kaline was referring to a broken collar bone he suffered in 1962.

"Perfect alignment," Wright commented as he worked the small bone behind the baseball star's little finger into position. The bone, broken in two places, could be seen on a fluoroscopic television screen as Wright maneuvered it into place. "It feels all right now," Kaline said later, "but I got a little woozy when he was pulling it back in place."

"It goes right into position—beautiful," Wright told Kaline, who was on his back under a mass of gleaming X-ray equipment.

Kaline, his eyes closed, winced slightly as Wright and another doctor wound the swollen hand with wet plaster wrapping. "Does it hurt now, Al?" Wright asked. The American League's No. 3 batter shook his head.

Wright said the injury should keep Kaline on the sidelines for three weeks.

Tony Oliva All-Star Substitute

NEW YORK (AP) — Tony Oliva, Minnesota's right fielder, has been named to replace the injured Al Kaline of Detroit in the starting lineup of the American League team for the July 11 All-Star game at Anaheim.

The announcement of Oliva's selection came from the office of Commissioner William Eckert who was informed by Joe Cronin, American League president, that Manager Hank Bauer had made the selection.

Oliva, a two-time batting champion, has been in a bad slump this season, currently batting .235. However, he finished fourth in the balloting of the 273 American League players, coaches and managers with 28 votes.

The addition of Oliva gave the American League its third left-handed batter in the starting lineup.

Kaline suffered a broken bone in a finger Tuesday night when he smashed his right hand against the bat rack after striking out in a game with Cleveland.

Earlier Tuesday, the league announced Kaline had led the All-Star team voting, the 13th consecutive year he was chosen for the team.

It appeared certain the Tigers' big hitter would miss the July 11 contest at Anaheim, Calif.

Kaline, who was making his strongest start in several seasons, was batting .328 after 68 games. He had 15 home runs and 53 runs batted in.

Injury is not new to the 15-year Tiger veteran. In 1959, he broke a cheek bone. In 1962 it was the broken collar bone. Two years ago Kaline suffered torn rib cartilage. And after the 1965 season, surgery corrected a chronic foot malformation.

Yankees Waive Reniff to Mets

NEW YORK (AP) — The Mets obtained right-handed reliever Hal Reniff from the Yankees in a waiver transaction involving the two New York baseball clubs last night.

Reniff, 28-year-old, had an 0-2 record in 24 games with the Yankees this season.

To make room for the new acquisition, the Mets optioned rookie pitcher Bill Denney to their Jacksonville farm team in the International League. Denney had a 1-7 National League record.

MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL ROUNDUP:

Cubs Sweep Bucs, Take Over 2nd; Willie Shows 'Em, Blasts Cards

CHICAGO (AP) — Adolfo Phillips drove in three runs with a home run in the first game and ignited a rally with a double in the nightcap, leading the red hot Chicago Cubs to a 4-2, 3-1 doubleheader sweep over Pittsburgh yesterday.

The double triumphs gave the Cubs nine victories in their last 10 games and put them in second place in the National League.

Ferguson Jenkins won his 10th game in the opener, limiting the Pirates to six hits, and Ray Culp stopped Pittsburgh on just three hits in the second game, winning his fifth game against six losses.

Culp gave up only one Pirate hit in the first seven innings before Al Laplow singled and Matty Alou doubled him home in the eighth.

The Cubs scored two runs in the third when Phillips doubled, Culp singled him home and, after advancing to third on Don Kessinger's single, Culp scored on Glenn Beckert's ground out. They added one in the eighth when Ron Hundley doubled and scored on Donn Clendenon's error of a grounder by Beckert.

Phillip's 13th homer in the first game climaxed a four run seventh inning for the Cubs and was vigorously protested by Pirate Manager Harry Waler and pitcher Dennis Ribant.

They argued the high fly had curved around the left-field foul pole and were both ejected from the game. The Pirates scored on Manny Jimenez' single in the seventh and Bill Mazeroski's single in the ninth.

Giants-Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Willie Mays walked four hits including a pair of home runs last night leading the San Francisco Giants to a 9-1 victory over St. Louis.

Mays, who learned earlier Wednesday that he had missed the starting All-Star Game lineup for the first time since 1954, singled twice in a six-run third inning that broke the game open.

Then he whacked his 12th and 13th home runs of the season, completing a 4-for-5 night. The homers gave him 555 for his career.

Ray Sadecki, making his first start against his former teammates, held the Cardinals to seven hits and struck out eight. Sadecki contributed a single to the six-run explosion that kayoed Dick Hughes, the Cardinals' starting pitcher who had won five straight.

The big fourth began with singles by Mays and Jim Hart. After Willie McCovey delivered a sacrifice fly, Ollie Brown doubled and Hal Lanier singled two runs across. Tito Fuentes followed with a two-run homer.

Singles by Sadecki and Jim Davenport finished Hughes. With Al Jackson pitching, Tom Haller hit a sacrifice fly.

Mays homered off Jackson in the sixth and eighth innings. Hughes' record fell to 7-3. Sadecki has a 2-0 season mark. He had started only twice before this season.

Tigers-Indians

DETROIT (AP) — Willie Horton's two-run single keyed a four-run Detroit sixth inning that carried the Tigers to a 7-4 victory over Cleveland last night. The victory snapped a four-game Detroit losing streak.

Losers Orlando Pena walked four batters, forcing across the tie-breaking run before Horton connected against reliever George Culver, driving in two more. A wild pitch produced the final Tiger run of the inning.

Joe Sparma, 8-1, got credit for the victory, giving up three runs in six innings.

The Tigers scored a run in the first off starter John O'Donoghue on singles by Mickey Stanley and Dick McAuliffe, plus Don Wert's sacrifice fly.

Norm Cash tripled home a pair of runs in the third.

Sparma gave up two runs in the third on singles by Lee Maye and Leon Wagner, a passed ball, and Duke Sims' base hit.

Larry Brown knocked in another Cleveland run in the fifth with a single. A walk, Sims' third single and a fielder's choice on Chico Salmon's infield grounder brought home another run in the seventh.

Dodgers-Reds

CINCINNATI (AP) — Chico Ruiz' fielding error in the ninth inning allowed two Los Angeles runs to score as the Dodgers overcame a five-run deficit to beat Cincinnati 7-5 yesterday for their fifth straight victory.

With two out in the inning, Ron Hunt singled and stole second, Willie Davis was intentionally walked by Reds' reliever Ted Abernathy and Al Ferrara hit a grounder that went through Ruiz at second, allowing both runners to dash home.

Febvre scored when Tommy Helms bobbled Len Gabrielson's grounder.

ChiSox-Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP) — Wayne Causey's three-run homer in the eighth inning powered the American League leading Chicago White Sox to a 3-2 victory over the Baltimore Orioles last night.

Causey, a replacement at second base for Al Wels who suffered torn knee ligaments Tuesday night, connected for his first 1967 homer off Baltimore rookie Bill Dillman.

Ron Hansen started the rally with his third hit of the game and a single by Don Buford, a seventh-inning substitute, sent pinch runner Jimmy Stewart to third.

Dillman momentarily staved off a run by fielding Tommy Agee's tapper and getting Stewart in a rundown. But Causey sent a drive into the right field bleachers.

Dave Johnson drove in both Baltimore runs off Chicago starter Gary Peters, who hurled the first four innings.

Astros-Braves

ATLANTA (AP) — Jimmy Wynn raced home on Phil Niekro's wild pitch with the bases loaded and two out in the ninth inning as the Houston Astros topped Atlanta 4-2 last night and snapped an eight-game losing streak.

Niekro, a knuckleball specialist, allowed just five hits but got into the ninth inning jam when Wynn, leading off, walked, moved up on a sacrifice and reached third on Ed Mathews' short single. Bob Aspromonte walked loading the bases.

After Ron Brand popped up for the second out, Niekro's wild pitch allowed Wynn to score. Jackie Brandt followed with a pinch single, driving in another run.

Phils-Mets

NEW YORK (AP) — Rich Allen crashed a three-run homer in the seventh inning and Bill White followed with a bases-empty blast, powering the Philadelphia Phillies to a 6-5 victory over the New York Mets last night.

The Phils trailed 3-2 in the seventh when Tony Gonzalez and Johnny Briggs singled against rookie right-hander Tom Seaver and Allen drilled his 10th homer over the right field fence. One out later, White cracked his second homer of the year off reliever Don Shaw, accounting for the deciding run.

Athletics-Yanks

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Bert Campaneris triggered a rally and scored both Kansas City runs yesterday, leading the Athletics to a 2-0 victory over the New York Yankees behind the five-hit pitching of Lew Krausse and Tony Pierce and Jack Aker.

Campaneris doubled with one out in the third inning and promptly scored when Mike Hershberger singled. In the sixth, Campaneris made it to second when Bill Robinson let the ball get past him in left and then scored on Ken Harrelson's pinch-hit single.

Krausse, 4-10, recorded his first victory in three weeks, limiting the Yanks to three hits through the first seven innings before giving way to Pierce when Dick Howser singled leading off the inning.

Aker came on in the ninth after Steve Whitaker's singled and retired the last two batters.

Twins-BoSox

ST. PAUL — MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Cesar Tovar's single drove in the winning run in the seventh inning last night as Minnesota edged Boston 3-2 behind Dave Boswell's four-hit pitching.

With the scored tied 2-2, Ted Uhlaender was safe on a fielder's choice and moved to second on Boswell's sacrifice. Tovar ripped a single off Boston starter Lee Stange, driving in Uhlaender.

Boswell, 5-5, struck out 13 batters and allowed the two Boston runs in the fifth when Jerry Adair hit his first homer of the season and Reggie Smith slammed his fourth.

Pros Critical of Course As Canadian Open Starts

By BOB GREEN
AP Sports Writer

MONTREAL (AP) — The $200,000 Canadian Open Golf Tournament gets under way today with the Montreal Municipal course taking an oral beating and the players preoccupied with their fuss with the PGA.
Doug Sanders was openly critical of the refurbished 6,800 yard, par-71 layout, the first public course to host the tournament and one of the very few of the touring professionals ever seen.
Gary Player of South Africa, as usual, termed it "quite adequate" but that is a standard response for the little man in black. And the comment came right after a practice round of 66.
Frank Beard grinned ruefully and said: "No comment, I'm trying to make friends, not enemies."
"I should not even be interviewed on the subject," Sanders said, "it would be foolish to say it's a good course or that it's in good condition. It isn't."

sensus is that par will take a terrible beating and that it may take a score of about 269 or 270 — 14 or 15 strokes under par — to win it.
A field of 156 is poised for the opening round, with Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus sharing the favorite's role, and the touring pros still concerned about their feud with officials of the Professional Golfers' Association.

The players' tournament committee — Dan Sikes, Gardner Dickinson, Mason Rudolph and Doug Ford — called a meeting of all interested pros to discuss a recent meeting in Cleveland.
It appeared at the Cleveland meeting that the players and PGA officials had hammered out a settlement in their long standing and complex dispute over control of the tour.

But nothing was committed to paper and the players now are confused as to whether or not PGA officials still retain a critical veto power.
If they are unable to settle their differences the possibility of a player boycott of the PGA championship in Denver next month still remains.

Regardless of their action it will not affect the Canadian Open, in which Don Massengale is given only a long shot chance of retaining his title.

The field will be cut to the low 70 for the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday.

The last two rounds are scheduled for national television coverage in both Canada and the United States, CBS-TV and CBC-TV will televise the tournament 4-6 p.m., EDT, both days.

CRITICS DENOUNCED

Bombing Said Effective

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., demanded yesterday a full-dress investigation of U.S. bombing of North Vietnam. He commended its effectiveness has been falsely criticized.

The former secretary of the Air Force told the Senate that "untruthful and dangerous reports" are being circulated in an effort "to further denigrate the effectiveness of airpower."

As Symington spoke, Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate watchdog defense subcommittee, announced that such an inquiry already is under way.

Stennis said he had sent two of his investigators to Vietnam earlier to conduct a searching investigation.

Symington objected to published reports that bombing in North Vietnam had been ineffective and that meaningful military targets now are lacking.

"Something peculiar is currently going on," Symington said.

RECLUSE LEAVES

THOUSANDS TO CHURCH

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — An elderly watchmaker who lived as a recluse in a single room behind an old shop died recently and left 178,000 rand ($249,200) to the Roman Catholic Church.

Few people knew John Turley's name or that he hailed from Lithuania and immigrated to South Africa as a youth. Neighbors who had heard rumors that he had amassed a fortune knew him only as "Johnny."

told the Senate as he said these reports did not "coincide with testimony given at executive session" to the Senate Armed Services Committee "by military people who are doing and have been doing the actual fighting."

Testimony critical of the bombing, Symington said that it they were accurate "then we are losing unnecessary scores of multimillion-dollar airplanes, and killing unnecessarily hundreds of our finest Americans."

Symington said the military chiefs of staff "know there are many lucrative military targets remaining in North Vietnam which have never been touched" while other targets once damaged have not been hit a second time.

They discussed plans to submit shortly to the Geneva disarmament conference a proposed treaty to curb the spread of nuclear weapons.

Fulbright indicated he thought the administration was being overly optimistic about prospects for reaching agreement on a treaty.

"Personally, I don't think it's very close," he commented.

Rusk also told the committee he and Gromyko had discussed antiballistic missile systems.

Asked whether any progress was made, Fulbright said he could not evaluate the outcome but "in my own opinion, it is progress to be talking about it."

The chairman said he thought settlement of the Vietnam war was necessary before any progress could be made in solving differences between the United States and the Soviet Union.

BIG BEND OVERLOOK AT KINZUA DAM SITE

Outdoors Beckoning All to Wide World of Fun

By JOHN FREDERICKS

Today most Americans stepped outdoors. No one will argue that. After all, going to work, walking to the store, running next door to borrow a cup of flour all involve outdoor activity.

Stepping into the great outdoors, however, is an animal of another hue. Call it semantics if you like, but the "great" outdoors is that area of enjoyment which takes you out of the routine, regimented and even too-convenient way of life. This is the outdoors manifest in woods, water and fresh air.

Millions of Americans are becoming closer to the great outdoors. Attribute part of the interest to economies. This affluent society has more disposable income to devote to off-time activities.

Attribute a lion's share of the popularity of the great outdoors to the fellows who have designed products geared to recreation and to the far sighted government officials and interested laymen who work hard to maintain large and small hunks of land and water for public use.

Outdoor activities run all the way from a back yard barbecue to skin diving in the Bahamas, and most of the basic activities are interlocking. Although boating in itself is a fulfilling recreation, many boaters use their craft to get to ideal picnic-camping areas. Likewise, many campers purchase their equipment to give them a temporary home near the water's edge to increase their boating fun.

Flying airplanes or driving four wheel drive "go anywhere" vehicles — both growing recreations — enable outdoor devotees to cover huge distances quickly or get to remote locations easily for fishing, camping, boating and carefree relaxation.

Camping equipment manufacturers have discovered the formula for producing merchandise that offers a "back to earth" feeling while maintaining enough conveniences and portability to appeal to the ladies as well as to the less than rugged outdoorsmen.

Boating equipment is dependable and easy to maintain. Spin casting has taken the embarrassing and annoying backlash out of fishing. Plastic containers, insulated chests and jugs and fool-proof portable gas stoves take the cook from the kitchen without taking the kitchen from the cook.

So you want to fly. A five dollar bill will put you in the driver's seat to get acquainted. Land vehicles for outdoor recreation, from truck-camper units and roomy super-station wagons to small 4-wheel drive bugs, combine all the toughness you expect with comfort and economy you might not expect.

The giant clothing industry has become outdoor conscious, too, sending to market apparel for all activities which is durable and fashionable. Features like nylon zippers to combat corrosion and permanent water proofing keep the woods and water buffs smiling.

Find a camp ground and chances are the service industries will have ice machines, laundromats and soft-drink dispensers in the area. Need a new spark plug for the outboard or a guide to local attractions, you'll find why the term "filling station" is antique and "service station" is the name.

Enjoyment of the great outdoors has become as American as you-know-what kind of pie.

JC Celebration Highlight Of 4th of July Festivities

This year's Fourth of July celebration in Warren County is bigger and better than ever—in more ways than one.

The Independence Day holiday in Warren will be celebrated with a bigger parade, a bigger fireworks display, and more varied activities than it has been in recent history.

And the long weekend will run thousands of visitors to the area to take advantage of the recreational complex afforded by Kinzua Dam and Allegheny Reservoir, now in their first full season of use.

In Warren, the activities for the Fourth of July weekend will offer visitors a chance to participate in Northwest Pennsylvania's best Independence Day celebration. Visitors and townspeople alike will see:

+ The launching of the Conewango Navy on Saturday at 10 a.m. on the Conewango Creek. Some 30 ducks will be placed in the creek to keep up a tradition of seven years standing.

+ The Warren area's first water ski show, with members of the Sandy Lake Water Ski Club, who have won awards all over the country. The event will be held in the afternoon on the Allegheny River in downtown Warren.

+ Warren Summer Theatre, located on Scandia Road, in a newly refurbished barn on the Plowright property, with evening performances Wednesday through Monday.

+ The fun fair at Beaty Field, scheduled for Monday with games for everyone of all ages.

+ The Fourth of July parade, which starts at 11 a.m. with more than 35 floats, drum and bugle corps, bands, and other units entered. The day starts with a bang, with 20 aerial bombs going off at dawn.

+ Miss Pennsylvania of 1967, who will ride a float in the parade and be on hand for much of the July Fourth activities.

+ A chicken barbecue on Beaty Field at 2 p.m., with the fun fair continuing its Monday activities.

+ The big est display of fireworks ever seen in Warren, set to start at 10 p.m.

The skies in the Warren County area are uncluttered and clean, with white clouds drifting lazily above miles and miles of Pennsylvania hardwood forests. The county is largely rural in nature, with small towns and villages and picturesque farms dotting a green and lush landscape.

For those seeking recreation, the area offers an abundance of opportunities. There are picnic areas, camping areas, boating facilities (whether you bring your own or rent one), fishing in rivers, lakes, brooks or runs, and hiking through miles of unbroken forest. These are just a few of the relaxing outdoor activities available to visitors and residents.

A breakdown, not by any means complete, of the facilities available in the Warren County area:

PICNICKING—Rimrock reached on Route 59 behind Casey Bridge over the Allegheny Reservoir; Jake's Rocks, with an overlook of Kinzua Valley and the dam; Chapman Dam, with swimming and picnicking facilities (turn right in Clarendon at the light); War Penn, on Route 6 one mile beyond the intersection with Route 59, turn right, Tidoute, where a new overlook of the Allegheny River has just been completed; Washington Park, with an overlook of Warren Borough and the river; Buckaloons, reached by Route 6 west of Warren, just beyond the Route 62 intersection; and numerous picnicking tables and facilities along the river from the dam southward.

BOATING—The Allegheny River, Allegheny Reservoir, Bear Lake, and Chautauque Lake, only 25 miles to the north near Jamestown.

CAMPING—Buckaloons, on Route 6 west of Warren, Wade's Woods, north of Scandia with access to the Allegheny Reservoir.

Public Lands Offer Wealth Of Outdoor Fun

Fishing, riding, hunting, walking, boating, driving, skiing, anyone? Opportunities for these and many other outdoor recreation activities are available throughout the Nation.

The National Park Service administers more than 230 areas of outstanding natural, historical and recreation significance on more than 26 million acres. These include 33 National Parks, Seashores and Lakeshores, 143 historical parks and 12 designated Federal Recreation Areas.

Camping, boating, nature study and other facilities are available in many of these areas.

The National Forest Service maintains 154 forests covering 181 million acres that include walking trails, overlooks, camping and picnicking areas, and Visitor Information Centers.

There are 312 National Wildlife Refuges in the country, covering some 28½ million acres. About 170 of these are open to the public for fishing, hunting and other outdoor recreation.

Fishing and other water recreation are available on 235 of the 350 U. S. Army Corps of Engineers Federal Reservoirs, and some 25 major TVA lakes in seven Southern states.

In the West, millions each year enjoy sightseeing, swimming, boating, fishing, waterskiing, hunting and camping at more than 210 Bureau of Reclamation project areas which cover some 3.5 million acres of land and some 1.7 million acres of water surface in 17 Western states, Alaska, and Hawaii.

Some 4,450 sites on the Bureau of Land Management's 457 million acres, mostly in 11 Western states and Alaska, also are open to the public for outdoor recreation.

Many of these outdoor recreation opportunities are available to the public free of charge. In some instances Federal Recreation Area Entrance and/or user fees are charged. For further information, write to the Washington Office of the

FACE OF KINZUA DAM

Barbecuing Tips for Dad

Back yard barbecuing is considered dad's domain. Perhaps this is a carry-over from hunting and fishing excursions where men take over the cooking — and love to tell their wives how delicious THEIR meals are.

As king of the barbecue, dad specializes in everything from charcoaled hamburgers to spit-roasted chickens and grilled shrimp, lobster or steak. Once in a while, he manages corn on-the-cob charcoaled in the husk, but the other picnic foods are in mom's bailiwick.

Also within the wife's jurisdiction is that big decision of planning the menu. For a fresh approach to the problem, heed the research findings of a recent survey conducted by an independent organization.

Though husbands are hesitant to tell their wives, most men would welcome more variety in their meals. Men who eat their noon meals away from home report that they try casseroles, salads and meats with different kinds of seasonings in restaurants.

It seems that men do like to brag about their wives' cooking abilities, though. For your next outdoor cooking expedition or back yard "happening," select a new cut of meat or marinade or basting sauce for the chef to prepare. Try lamb shish kebab, grilled canned ham steaks or lamb chops.

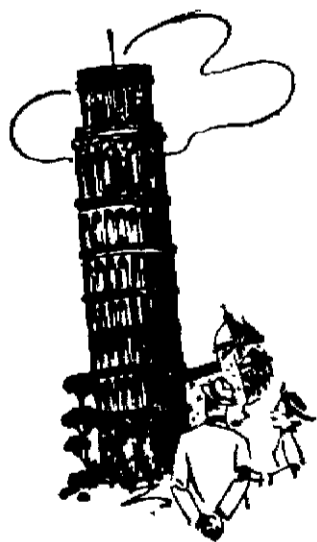

Instead of the usual baked potato, wrap cooked rice seasoned with herbs and butter in foil packets and heat in the coals or on the grill. Great with steak or burgers.

Cold cuts make good grilling items, too. Fold thin slices in fourths and thread on skewers. Serve on toasted buns with ketchup. Thick slices of bologna, grilled and basted with barbecue sauce, make excellent sandwich fare. (Make a few slits around the edge of each slice to prevent the meat from curling.)

New idea from Genesee: put an automatic bartender in your refrigerator !!!!

How convenient can a great beer be?

Just pick up Genesee's new 12 Can Chill Pak at your store, slip it into your refrigerator at home, zip off the end panel and . . . magic!! Take out one can and suddenly . . . where that can was, another can is! No mess. No rummaging around. Zip-Sip tops too. Nice . . .

Strength of The Nation

By Stewart L. Udall, U.S. Secretary of Interior

In my six years as Secretary of the Interior, I have come more and more to the inescapable conclusion that the strength and safety of this Nation are as much dependent upon our people's physical development and health as upon our armory of weapons.

This being true, what is America today? In our free society, how have we fared in developing and preserving in our race that element of physical stamina and vigor so essential to our freedom?

A national survey a few years ago found that, at best, one-fourth of our 40 million school children could not pass even a simple screening test of physical performance—a test requiring the barest minimum acceptance levels of strength, flexibility, and agility.

Clearly, this should be a cause for concern in all of us. Such concern is only magnified when we look beyond school age to the increasingly high rate of young men rejected by the Army for physical reasons—three of every seven called! With these figures in mind, it becomes increasingly clear that we can't argue too much with the claim that America has become too soft. We need to stress physical fitness to school children and adults alike. Providing more recreation areas and facilities is one of the answers to the problem.

But providing such areas has proven difficult. We have missed many an opportunity. Much of the land we need most already is built over or has soared fantastically in price.

But now, for the first time, we are winning the battle of conservation to help Americans keep physically fit.

In 1966, the States, cities, and counties of the Northeast acquired nearly 350,000 acres of public recreation land. The Pacific southwest acquired another 140,000 acres. Those two areas—our most densely populated sectors—acquired over half the 925,000 acres in local and State public recreation areas set aside last year.

The Federal Government acquired some 785,000 acres of public land and water areas last year—more than half east of the Mississippi River. Again, the bulk of the new public recreation areas are where most of our people live. Local and State governments acquired more recreation land than the Federal Government. This was as it should be.

We are a people in need of relief from the day-to-day tensions compounded of the varied stresses which derive from metropolitan congestion. We are demanding and getting some relief. Concurrent with the big move to America's cities has been the big surge to the outdoors. Our latest figures show a continued rise in the number of visitors to National recreation areas in our forests, parks, wildlife refuges, seashores, and reservoirs areas.

We cannot rest, however, until our national heritage is secure.

In the words of President Johnson, "Clearly, the time for action is at hand. The problems are made by man and can be solved by enlightened man. We will not yield to carelessness or greed in our determination to preserve, unspoiled and unsullied for future generations of Americans, this natural inheritance which we received as our national birthright."

G. B. CAULEY Retired After 45 Years Service

The Pennsylvania Railroad has announced the retirement of G. B. Cauley, effective July 1.

Cauley, who has represented his company in Warren since August, 1954, has been with the Pennsy more than 45 years.

Since his original employment with the company in February, 1922, as a clerk in Bradford, Cauley has held positions on the Buffalo (later the Northern) division, the Conemaugh and the Renova divisions of the railroad.

From 1930 to 1935 Cauley was agent at Kinzua. From 1935 until 1943 he filled a number of agency positions at stations between Erie and Pittsburgh.

In 1943 Cauley was appointed agent at Ridgway, a position he held until his transfer to Warren in August, 1954.

Mr. and Mrs. Cauley and their sons, Michael and Joseph, have made their home at 15 Timothy st., North Warren, since his appointment here in 1954.

Damage $410 in Crash

Property damage was estimated to total $410 in a two-car traffic mishap at 6:30 a.m. yesterday at the intersection of Stone Hill rd. and Beech st.

Borough police officer Edward Lindberg, who investigated, said a car operated by Almon R. Shene, Box 252, Warren, traveling east on Stone Hill, came to the unmarked Beech st. intersection, turned right and struck a car driven by Thomas Gary Stewart, RD 3, Sugar Grove, traveling north on Beech.

There were no injuries, police said.

Meadville Escapee Sought by Officers

MEADVILLE — A Meadville man broke out of Crawford County Jail Tuesday afternoon following a hearing that turned down his appeal for a new trial.

According to sheriff's officials, James Lee Brady, 24, escaped through a window in the jail's basement stockroom. He was allegedly working in the stockroom at 2:45 p.m. when a trustee reported the break to officials.

The trustee reported that when making his rounds he noticed the lock to the stockroom was not secured properly. He then discovered the open window.

Brady had been serving time at Western Diagnostic Correctional Classification Center, Western Penitentiary in Pittsburgh for burglary and larceny. He was recently transferred to Crawford County Jail to await a preliminary hearing on his appeal for a new trial.

All police in surrounding areas have been notified of Brady's description which is as follows: white male; weight

WILL HAVE SLIDE SHOW TONIGHT

Japanese Foresters Here for Fourth

The 11 members of an extension forestry team from Japan visiting Warren County for several days have accepted an invitation to present a public slide show today at the Y.W.C.A. at 8 p.m.

This travelogue of Japan, with pictures taken by Japanese citizens, affords a rare opportunity to see many portions of that land not usually visited by tourists.

A good crowd is hoped for by the hosts of the team, as a demonstration of international fellowship.

Wednesday evening, after arriving from Harrisburg, where the Japanese foresters conferred with State Forester Samuel S. Cobb of Pennsylvania Dept. of Forests and Waters Bureau of County Agent and Mrs. Bernard Wingert for an American cookout. The party was at the Wingert's new home at 1010 E. Fifth ave.

Today the visitors will go to Collins Pine Company, at Sheffield. They will observe the Christmas tree operations, and discuss the private forest management programs. They will see the Hosmer Machine Company chipping plant in Tiona, where slab wood from 10 sawmills in a 35 mile radius reduced the chips and are sent to Hammermill Paper Company.

The sawmill at Tiona operated by Jerry Spetz is also on the itinerary. After lunch at Miller's Wigwam on Scandia Road, the Japanese group visits Dr. Fenner Lindblom's farm at Scandia, where a tree farm is operated.

Friday, on the itinerary are Devore's Mill at Pittsfield, and a noon picnic at the Alfred Akins' farm at Chandeliers, where they will meet the Agricultural Extension Association executive committee.

An inspection of the baseball bat factory at Akeley and a view of Richard Probst's logging job at Akeley are scheduled.

Monday, they will be guests of the U.S. Forest Service and visit Northeastern Forest Experiment Station at Buckaloons. They will be guided by Ted J. Grisez, research forester. They will discuss programs of research on silviculture and management of Allegheny National Forest hardwoods.

July 4 they are guests of the community.

Wednesday and Thursday, Leroy K. Kelley, Allegheny National Forest Supervisor and his staff will conduct the visitors from Japan on tours of various sections of the forest, to observe harvesting timber, management of wild land or multiple use, for timber, water, wildlife and recreation. They will also explore outdoor recreation facilities of the Allegheny Reservoir.

July 7, the group become guests of Robert A. Ache, district forester, Pennsylvania Dept. of Forests and Waters. They will observe cooperative federal-state forest management and protection programs. Special attention will be given to small privately owned woodlands and tracts.

Columbus Schools Borrowing

The Columbus School Board Monday night at a special meeting faced the fact it would have to borrow money again as it occupies the same untenable financial fact it has faced for some time.

The need for another loan grows from several sources, an $827 deficit at year's end in the cafeteria, kindergarten tuition due for the past year of $1,089 and a payment to Corry Area Jointure of $14,969.

This makes a total indebtedness of $16,058.

The board has anticipated income from taxes of $4,000 and $4,000 in the treasury, so it plans to borrow $7,500 from the National Bank of Corry, which it feels will hold the township through the summer when coupled with another anticipated source of revenue.

F. Lowe Edwards, school tax collector, said at the meeting he has put in a claim with Corry's city income tax receiver R. Elwin Fuller for $4,400 paid by Columbus wage earners working in Corry.

It is hoped this will come in before July 1, end of the fiscal year, so it can be used for the current year. The school and the township split the $4,400 equally.

The group includes Chuhei Hara, group leader; Yoshisumi Fukumori, Koichi Hada, Yoshiaki Haruma, Takashi Matsuzaki, Kunimori Minamoto, Uichiro Monma, Toshishige Moriyama, Takehisa Yasuda, Takao Watanabe, and Jiro Watanabe, group secretary. They will be accompanied by two interpreters, Shochi Maruhashi and Tetsuo Koyama.

Technical leader for their tour is E. L. Demmon, Asheville, N.C. who was a member of the U.S. Forest Service for 33 years before he retired in 1956. For 28 years he was director of three different forest experiment stations. Previous to Forest Service work he was technical advisor to American rubber interests in the East Indies and Central America. In 1956-57 served as forestry consultant to Chinese government in Taiwan. He was one-time president of American Foresters, national professional forestry organization now numbering 14,000 members.

FOR OIL PRODUCTION

Reassessment of Tax Denied Blain Mead

Judge Alexander C. Flick Jr. has denied the appeal of Warren County Commissioner Blain M. Mead who sought reassessment on property he owns in Mead, Pleasant and Conewango townships.

The assessment board fixed the value on Mead's land figured on an estimated $600 per barrel oil production for 1966. The increased assessment on oil production in Warren County was approved last year by Commissioners D. H. Lay and Lewis L. Crippen and Mead petitioned the court to veto the measure.

Several hearings were held before Judge Flick during which oil experts testified in regard to yardsticks used in other counties as to fair assessments on oil production.

Mead based his argument in stating there is no Act of Assembly which allows or provides specifically for the taxation of oil or assessment on oil production.

The assessment board, through county solicitor David W. Swanson, has argued that oil and oil production has been the lawful subject of taxation in Pennsylvania for the last century.

The board's answer also noted that Mead himself is a member of the board and voted for and sanctioned the use of the assessment.

The board's answer also noted that Mead himself is a member of the board and voted for and sanctioned the use of the assessment.

Teacher Jailed in Erie County

A 24-year-old former mathematics teacher in the Northwestern Area School District was sentenced Tuesday to a year in county jail and fined a total of $200 plus costs on two counts of public indecency, both involving teen-aged girls.

Robert T. Crawford, 94 W. State st., Albion, was sentenced before Erie County Judge Edward H. Carney.

He resigned last April as an 8th and 9th grade instructor at Northwestern High School, according to school district officials. He had taught in the school district for nearly three years, authorities said.

Crawford was arraigned April 16 and had been freed on $500 bond on each count.

Youngsville Kiwanians Join Fourth

The Kiwanis Club of Youngsville will play a major role in the 20th annual Warren Jaycee Fourth of July celebration.

Members will stage a chicken barbecue on the 4th at Beatty Field near the tennis courts. Dinner will be served starting promptly at 1 p.m. The Youngsville organization is famous for its barbecues and the holiday event is expected to be equally successful.

President Howard Husted said arrangements with the Jaycees had been completed and the meal will be available throughout the entire afternoon.

All Kiwanians will assist in preparation for the barbecue and Ed Maynard has held a meeting with his "pit" committee.

Memorial Day Repeat Is Sought

Pennsylvania motorists were urged this July 4 weekend to continue the trend established over Memorial Day in Pennsylvania, when highway fatalities were reduced nearly 40 percent over that of 1966.

"If motorists this July 4 weekend continue the improvement made during the Memorial Day weekend, our extended July 4 holiday fatalities will be less than a normal weekend," Harry H. Brainerd, Pennsylvania Commissioner of Traffic Safety said.

Last year, over July 4, highway accidents claimed the lives of 24 persons in the Commonwealth.

Highway accidents over the Memorial Day weekend in 1967 claimed 21 lives, while in 1966, 34 persons died during the first extended summer holiday.

Commissioner Brainerd commended the Memorial Day drivers and appealed to every vehicle operator to again adopt defensive driving techniques.

"It is not enough that you drive safely. With the crowded conditions that exist on many highways during the holidays, every driver must be his brother's keeper and be alert for the mistakes of others."

"Drive defensively so that you can avoid an accident that might be the fault of another driver," he said.

Bar to Consider Appointed Judges

BEDFORD, Pa. (AP) — Officials of the Pennsylvania Bar Association said yesterday they want the state constitutional convention to take the selection of judges out of politics.

A proposal to be submitted to the bar association during its annual convention this week would provide for the appointment of judges by a special committee. The judges would run for election on their records.

William A. Schnader of Philadelphia, chairman of the association's Special Committee on "Project Constitution," said the resolution would ask the constitutional convention to make the merit system of selection the law throughout the state.

But he said if the convention doesn't want to start the system in the whole state, the bar association should settle for applying it in Allegheny and Philadelphia counties.

Schnader's proposed resolution also calls for a commission of judges, lawyers and laymen to set up disciplinary regulations for jurists.

State Police List June Promotions

Col. Frank McKetta, Pennsylvania state police commissioner, has announced 10 promotions within state police ranks. All occurred due to retirements or transfers of other members of the force. June 22 was the effective date.

Sgt. James W. Klass, Wyoming troop, was promoted to lieutenant and transferred to the western division of the Turnpike Command. Klass replaced Lt. Bains who was assigned to the Traffic Bureau, regimental headquarters in Harrisburg.

Replacing Klass at Troop P, Wyoming, is Cpl. Nicholas J. Pauley who has been promoted to sergeant.

Other promotions at the Wyoming troop are: Trooper Francis H. Brennan to corporal; Cpl. Edward Bloomer to sergeant; Trooper John L. Ross to sergeant; Trooper Albin E. Puza to corporal; Trooper Eugene C. Ware to corporal. Cpl. John J. Turissini of Wyoming troop has been promoted to sergeant and transferred to Troop R at Dummore.

At Troop B in Washington, Pa., Trooper Wilbur O. Shirley has been promoted to sergeant and transferred to Troop R at Dummore. Trooper John P. Lyons, Troop F, Montoursville, has been promoted to sergeant.

Vote With Majority

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pennsylvania's two U.S. senators—Democrat Joseph S. Clark and Republican Hugh Scott—voted with the majority Tuesday as the Senate sent to President Johnson a bill boosting the national debt ceiling to its highest level in history, $365 billion on July 1, 1968.

Town Crier

... By Les Rickey

Sleep well tonight. The Conewango Navy is on the alert. Or maybe they aren't. They had a rigorous trip up from West Middlesex and from Corry yesterday in the back of a pickup.

Then they were launched for a pilot test. It worked. In fact, it worked so well that they're still there.

The reason for launching them early was simple: there was no way to keep them for a Saturday launching and still meet other commitments of the Fourth of July preparations.

Thirty of them went in the creek, with a very confused mother mallard in command. She started out with three eggs and found her brood growing constantly. She had just accustomed herself to 10 or so when she found 30 trying to get under her wings.

Their presence in the Conewango doesn't preclude a ceremony Saturday. But, believe me, they had to go in yesterday. They didn't care much for the truck, and they'd have cared even less about a locker at the bus depot.

I think Hymie Pitzgreber had a hand in this somewhere.

FRIENDLY TOWN CHILDREN are expected at about mid-afternoon today, arriving by bus at the YWCA, the local sponsoring agency for this very special program. About 34 children ranging in ages from 6 to 12 years, both negro and white with the majority negro, will be spending the next ten days with families here in Warren County. Carefully selected from less fortunate families living in Cleveland by the Cleveland Inner City Protestant Parish, the children, Protestant and Catholic, come from twelve different church centers. Mrs. Donald Davis, local chairman, commented on the coincidence that the twenty-eight host families — from all over Warren County — also represent twelve different churches. In the next ten days, many neighborhoods in the area will have a real chance to show a true Friendly Town spirit in helping to make these 34 children feel welcome.

A GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY OPEN HOUSE takes place on Sunday, July 2nd, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon L. Mack at their home in Stoneham. The guests will be received from 2 to 5 o'clock. Hosts will be the couple's children, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mack of Washington, D. C., Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Mack of Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Mack of Rochester, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. M. R. (Joyce) Phelps of Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene (Gladys) Smith of Stoneham. They invite all relatives, neighbors and friends to attend.

ANOTHER TASTEBUD TICKLING STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL is scheduled for this Saturday, July 1st, on the lawn of the Akeley Methodist Church. Serving will be between the hours of 5 and 8 p. m. And, for this festival, a full menu is being offered: Hot-dogs, hamburgs, baked beans, salads, strawberry pies, short-cakes and sundaes. What with this festival and the Halupki, mentioned in a previous paragraph, Mom can really untie those apron strings and enjoy two days of sampling the delights of someone else's cooking — Getting out of one's own hot kitchen can be a delight in itself! Well, rain or shine, this festival will go on, according to Dr. Jeanne Tonkin chairman. So, bring your family, and join friends and neighbors in the fun. The Adult Fellowship group of the church will be happy to have you. All proceeds will go into the church's building fund.

VISITORS HERE include Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hepfinger of Lake Como, Florida, who will spend the summer with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Conklin of 314 Jackson avenue. The Rev. and Mrs. Charles Green of Massapequa Park, Long Island, N. Y., also visited a few days at the Conklin residence — they are the grandchildren of the Hepfingers. The Joseph Kwiatkowski of Pittsfield had as their weekend guests Mr. and Mrs. John Kempka and their grandnephew, Chris Roback, from Cleveland, Ohio. Mrs. Kempka and Mrs. Kwiatkowski are sisters.

HALUPKI TIME HAS ROLLED 'ROUND AGAIN — that's the traditional Slavic dish of rolled cabbage leaves stuffed with a tantalizing mixture of hamburger, rice and seasonings — sponsored by the Ladies Guild of St. Michael's Church in Sheffield. As in other years, the annual outdoor affair will be held in St. Michael's Pavilion at Deerlick Run, Sheffield, on Sunday, July 2nd, from 12 noon on. Besides Halupki, the menu will also feature Polish sausage, potato salad, baked beans, rolls, pie or cake, and coffee. Everything homecooked by some of the best cooks in the county. For those who wish, carry-outs will be available. According to Mrs. George Servesko, general chairman, tickets will be sold at the pavilion for this picnic style dinner. In the evening from 7 to 10 o'clock the "Blue Knights" will provide music for round and polka dancing. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Last weekend five teenagers from our town were killed in an automobile accident. Four of these kids were friends of mine. One was an only child, and two were brothers.

The driver was going at a very high rate of speed and he lost control of the wheel. The car went through 25 guardrail posts and down a 40-foot embankment. Every kid in the automobile had a broken neck. The funerals were like nightmares. You can't imagine the grief of the parents and grandparents and brothers and sisters of those kids who were killed. Classmates and friends felt awful, but in a few weeks we will get over the sadness and think about something else. For the families of the kids who died, the pain will go on for a long, long time—maybe forever. I just hope you will urge all teenagers everywhere to ask themselves, "Could this terrible thing have happened to me?" I admit I've been guilty of speeding and I have been in cars when the driver was going too fast. I was just luckier than the kids in the death car.

Please print my letter. If it will wake up just one teenager and make him realize that a few minutes of excitement could end in five funerals, I will feel it was worth the effort it took to write to you.—A YOUNG MOURNER

DEAR YOUNG MOURNER: I have received dozens of letters about this same accident. Yours said it best.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband bought me a parrot for Christmas. The bird is not only dirty as a pig but he makes an awful lot of noise. I can put up with the dirt and the noise all right, but lately that crazy bird has started to imitate the doorbell and I am half nuts running to the door and finding nobody there. When ever this happens the parrot gives out a dirty laugh, as if he knows he put over a fast one.

Please tell me how to outwit this miserable but clever bird.—NEW ORLEANS MOANER

DEAR MOANER: Replace the doorbell with a heavy knocker. They are not only decorative but practical. The bird may be clever but he'll have one heck of a time imitating THAT.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am in love with a wonderful girl and I want to marry her. She is 17 and just finished high school. She wants to go to college and has won a scholarship which means she will surely go.

I am 22 and never had a chance to go beyond high school. The girl insists she loves me but she doesn't want to accept an engagement ring before she goes away. I am beginning to think she wants to run around when she gets to college. It seems to me that an engaged girl would pay more attention to her studies, which is what she is supposed to be in college for.

We have gone steady for two years and so far as I know she has been faithful. Please advise her to accept my ring so she will not be tempted to fool around. Thank you.—MR. X.

DEAR MR. X: Why are you so eager to tie her up? Afraid she might meet someone else who is more appealing?

College means more than studying. It means meeting people and making comparisons and learning how the world works. A 17-year-old girl who would accept an engagement ring before she goes off to college has to have rocks in her head.

The mushroom is synonymous with good cuisine in Paris. Hundreds of miles of mushroom beds thrive in caves, tunnels, and sheds in the suburbs. The National Geographic says. The average Frenchman consumes about two pounds of mushrooms a year.

MR. AND MRS. OTTO W. BLISS

Golden Wedding Celebrated

Mr. and Mrs. Otto W. Bliss of Irvine, were honored on Sunday, at an open house held in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary. Mrs. Bliss was costumed in a pink and gold printed voile dress to which was pinned a white corsage. Mr. Bliss wore a matching boutonniere. The flowers were the gifts of their grandniece, Valerie Franklin. The affair was held in the National Forge Clubhouse in Irvine. The table centerpiece, a four tier anniversary cake, decorated with yellow roses and gold leaves, was topped with the gold numerals "50". Encircling the cake were gold leaves arranged with yellow pompons. A large vase of yellow gladioli and white carnations centered the gift table. The former Kathryn Coleman became the bride of Otto W. Bliss on June 25, 1917, in the Baptist Church, Warren. Mr. Bliss was originally from Toledo, Ohio, and Mrs. Bliss from Youngsville.

Hostesses and aides for the golden wedding openhouse were Mrs. Elvora Franklin of Warren; Mable Stokes, Genevieve Knapp and Hazel Taylor of Youngsville; Esther Ruhlman of Sugar Grove; Carol Perrin of Columbus; Betty Fitzgerald of Irvine; Tom Wester of Clarendon; and Gary and Randy Franklin. Gloria Taylor attended the guest book, and Valerie Franklin, the punch bowl.

The high-cheekboned Leonard Nimoy, co-star of NBC-TV's science-fiction series "Star Trek," explains why few viewers recognized him when he was first seen on the air despite the fact that he had appeared in guest roles on over 100 TV programs. "It was because of all that war paint, and wigs," says Leonard. "I played an Indian most of the time."

Class of WHS 1917 Celebrates Golden Anniversary

On Saturday, June 24, the Warren High School Class of 1917 celebrated its 50th anniversary at a reunion party at "Chedoke Pines", the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hultman of Pittsburgh. Of the original sixty members, twenty-three were present for the momentous occasion. Twenty-one have died in the 50 years since graduation. Among those present, totalling thirty-eight, three were teachers, and some husbands and wives.

Highlight of the evening was the renewal of old acquaintances after which a supper, catered by Lewis Market, was served on the spacious lawn. Senior Class President Byron Knapp was the master of ceremonies for the program which followed. The invocation was given by the class vice president, Pearl Lund, and, the class poet, Ruby Sharples, read a poem composed especially for the occasion. Ethel Olson, representing the spinsters, donned a quaint Gay Nineties "Little Old Lady" costume.

The three teachers of the era, present to enjoy the festive occasion, were Jacob Leidig, Ada Cole, and Edith Hultberg. An interesting letter from another teacher, Leroy McGowan of Tallahassee, Florida, was read.

THE GIRLS

By Franklin Folger

"You'll simply love Mr. Newton! After he looks at your foot, he always worries that he doesn't have anything small enough to fit you."

Hints

If that unfilled pie shell is frozen when you bake it, you'll need to increase the baking time by at least three to five minutes.

When you are using a bag holding seasoned flour for coating chicken pieces, add only a few pieces of chicken at a time to the bag. This way you have the best chance of having the coating even.

Raise your hands in cold water before shaping ground beef into hamburgers. If you are putting two raw meat patties together with a stuffing, be sure to mold the edges together thoroughly.

Interesting and good-tasting garnish for plain canned corn: a light sprinkling of coarsely grated cheddar cheese and paprika.

Storing a meat stew in the freezer? Pack the meat and gravy separately.

Hints From Heloise

DEAR FOLKS: All last summer I tested adhesive-backed plastic on my redwood tables and benches. I found it the most fantastic thing that has ever happened along this line.

Now there is a secret to applying it. Instead of stripping the backing from all of the gummed side of the plastic, I removed only two inches along the edges (just enough for it to stick to the sides of the table), pulled it under the table edge and tacked it down. The backing left in the center made a nice cushion for the table top and helped hide the cracks.

Also, nothing could drip through—don't you just hate it when something is spilled and runs all over your knees through those cracks? The greatest thing I found about it was there's no blowing tablecloth to fight. In fact, none was even required. It was a breeze to care for. After eating watermelon, all it took was a few swipes with a damp cloth to get it clean again.

If you have one-slat wooden benches you can cover them, too. It keeps them from warping in rainy weather and they can be sponged off and dried immediately.

So if you have an old, grease-spotted table, why not try my method? I happened to use a cobblestone pattern which I like very well, but the plastic comes in all kinds of designs. Just take your pick.

Heloise

DEAR HELOISE

For a super pair of gardening slacks I sew a large patch over each knee with the top edge left open. It's the perfect solution.

Just insert a piece of foam rubber or a sponge for padding. It works smoothly and no more sore knees.

Mrs. F. E. W.

And gals, why not use old potholders for those patches? They give extra padding for our bony knees.

Heloise

DEAR HELOISE

I don't know what other women do with their old cotton or plastic tablecloths, but here's what I did with one of mine.

I cut a hole in the center of a worn tablecloth so that my head would go through and used it for a shampoo cape when washing my hair.

But most of all I like to use it when tinting my hair. This sure saves my towels. I just wash the cape after using it and put it away for the next time.

Mrs. Roslyn Katz

DEAR HELOISE

When I take a gift to a shower I always put the card inside the package and secure it to the gift.

Then there is no chance of a mix-up. The card is always with the gift.

Mrs. J. Bucly

DEAR HELOISE

A sandglass egg timer saves clock watching when you're taking a child's temperature.

It's accurate and the child is diverted by watching the sand dribble down for those three minutes.

Mrs. McLaughlin

DEAR HELOISE

When I buy a straw purse that also has a straw handle I always paint the handle with clear fingernail polish.

You will be amazed how much longer the handle will last and it doesn't get soiled so quickly.

Mrs. C. Fido
